MICHIGAN LANDMARK BURNS. Billowing clouds of smoke pour from the roof of the famous Michigan landmark, Ford Rotunda, at Dearborn during a general alarm fire Friday. Chinese Reds Repulsed In New Attacks

Both Sides Poised For Tank Assault In Ladakh Sector

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Red Chinese troops launched new attacks along India's northeast Himalayan border but were repulsed, the Defense Ministry announced today.

Indian and Red Chinese tanks were reported poised in Ladakh on the northwestern front.

The attacks in the northeast came over the past two days near Walong, 15 miles west of the Burma border, and at Jang, about 300 miles to the west near the Bhutan border, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

He said the Chinese push near Walong was under cover of artillery fire. In Jang, he reported, the Indian forces shelled advancing Chinese.

Informed sources said Indian commanders in the northeast expressed confidence they can hold their present lines where the Chinese threaten mountain passes leading down into the plains of India's Assam State.

In the Ladakh area, informed sources reported, the Chinese shot at an Indian transport plane carrying military supplies to Chushul airfield, situated on a 14,230-foot plateau. The sources said the Chinese gunfire missed the plane.

A showdown battle for the airfield is expected.

India flew light tanks into the area to counter a Communist tank buildup near the airfield and across the disputed border at Rudok in Tibet.

Sen. Lausche Expects Hospital Release Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, a patient at Bethesda Naval Hospital the past 10 days suffering fatigue and chest pains, expects to be released early next week.

An aide who spent two hours with the Ohioan Friday said Lausche reported he was feeling good. The senator dictated letters and took care of some routine business, the aide said.

$15 Million Loss Set In Detroit Fire

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP)—The Ford Rotunda — a famous landmark in the Detroit area for 26 years—was a mass of twisted steel and stone rubble today.

A flash fire broke out on the 110-foot high dome at 1:15 p.m. Friday. It spread downward into the interior and intense heat soon caused the eight-sided structure to collapse.

The loss was estimated at between $15 and $16 million.

Ford Motor Co. made no immediate decision on whether to rebuild one of the nation's most visited tourist attractions.

The company's president, John Dykstra, said, "we are all greatly saddened by the loss of the Rotunda. To Detroiters and to millions of visitors it was a symbol of the automotive industry and Ford's role in the industry."

"We are especially distressed that we will have to disappoint the thousands of children who visit us every season to see our Christmas fantasy."

"Our only consolation is that no one was seriously hurt."

City's Union Asks Pay Talk

Clarification To Be Sought Of Council

City employees decided Friday night to seek a meeting with Council to clarify some wage increases scheduled to go into effect Dec. 1.

A six-man committee was named at the meeting of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, to confer with Council.

The committee will ask to confer with Council at a special meeting or in caucus at its regular session on Nov. 19. Fred Kane, president, said.

Kane said the union believes some wage increases, voted by Council Oct. 29, need clarification. The union also expects to ask Council about legislation proposed by the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water department, to force retirement of its workers at 65.

The union committee is headed by Ken McCartney. Other members will be Rodney Stull, Mark Stone, Francis Cubberley, John Cornell and Leonard Nichols. John Trimboli of Youngstown, district representative of the union, also will set in on the meeting.

Post-Election Battles Flare Over Ballots

Governor Winners Still 'Up In Air' In Four Of States

WASHINGTON (AP)—The election is over but the battle of the ballot box continues, and residents of four states may not know who their next governor is for several weeks.

And two losing Republican Senate candidates from South Dakota and Alabama have indicated they may challenge the first count of ballots that showed their Democratic opponents ahead.

The gubernatorial battles are in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Maine and Rhode Island. As of Friday night, unofficial figures showed Republican incumbents to be ahead in Maine and Minnesota while Democrats held tenuous leads in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts, Endicott Peabody jumped further ahead when the official canvass of Boston and some revisions in other areas gave him a 3,868-vote margin over Republican Gov. John A. Volpe. Both have taken out recount papers. The official canvass is expected next week.

Two remote North Woods precincts—the last two to be heard from—added to Minnesota Gov. Elmer L. Andersen's unofficial lead, but a 100-vote error was discovered in one county and by nightfall Republican Andersen's edge over Democratic Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag had swindled to 51 votes with about half of the state's 87 counties officially canvassed.

The Minnesota Canvassing Board won't declare a winner until Nov. 20. Then either side may ask for a recount.

The Rhode Island question probably won't be settled before Nov. 21. Democratic Gov. John A. Notti held a 47-vote lead over Republican John H. Chafee in the unofficial count Tuesday. But State Board of Elections employees won't start tackling some 5,000 absentee ballots until Monday.

About 1,400 of these absentee ballots are from servicemen with 500 or so more still expected. By state law they can't be opened until Nov. 21.

Inspection Of Russian Ship Made

Intercepted By U.S. Destroyer; Missiles Aboard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet freighter Anosov, steaming away from Cuba with a deck load which apparently included missiles, was inspected today by the U.S. Navy destroyer Barry.

A Defense Department spokesman said the inspection was carried out shortly after dawn today. The Barry had arranged Friday night for an "inspection without boarding" after intercepting the freighter in the glare of searchlights as dusk fell.

Details of this morning's inspection were lacking, but no incidents were reported.

The inspection presumably took place about 780 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

A group of newsmen aboard two long-range Navy patrol planes witnessed Friday night's intercept and today's inspection while their aircraft circled overhead. But the newsmen had to await their return to Washington later today to report on the incident.

Through the south Atlantic night the Barry shadowed the Soviet vessel, homeward bound with a military cargo that apparently includes eight missiles wrenched from their Cuban bases.

For the first time since President Kennedy proclaimed on Oct. 22 a blockade against offensive weapons shipments to Cuba, newsmen were allowed to watch the Navy in action in the quarantine area.

Reporter Jim Becker of The Associated Press was among reporters who watched from a circling Navy patrol plane as the Barry pulled alongside the Anosov and "requested inspection" of the ship at dawn.

The Anosov apparently agreed. "We have arranged an inspection without boarding," the destroyer reported by radio. The Barry said it would inspect and photograph the Soviet cargo from close alongside the Anosov at 6 a.m.

The Barry intercepted the Soviet freighter about 565 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

At 5:55 p.m. the U.S. destroyer sped up astern of the Anosov and bathed the Russian vessel in its powerful searchlights.

The two ships exchanged blinking light signals, apparently arranging the inspection in the dot-dash code of the lanterns.

It appeared that the ship's cargo of military equipment had been hastily loaded in a Soviet effort to comply swiftly with Soviet Premier Khrushchev's promise to get the missiles out of Cuba.

Funeral In New York

Great, Humble Pay Last Respects To Mrs. FDR

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) —Funeral services were conducted today for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, as the great and the humble gathered to pay their last respects before she was interred beside the grave of her husband, the nation's 32nd president.

The mourners attending the services in this Hudson River Valley community included President Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline. The Rev. Gordon L. Kidd conducted the services at St. James Episcopal church.

It was the same church where the former First Lady had come for the funeral services held for her husband, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in 1945. Mrs. Roosevelt's last resting place was beside that of her husband.

Startling Changes Over Crisis

U.S. Base In Cuba Now A Fearsome Stronghold

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—In just three weeks the U.S. naval base in eastern Cuba has been transformed into a fearsome stronghold.

The changes wrought by the Cuban crisis are startling.

The base is bristling with combat-ready Marines brought here within five hours after they received orders at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Prior to the naval quarantine President Kennedy announced Oct. 22, this base was a relatively cheerful place. Sailors' wives tended flower gardens and their children attended school here.

The families were whisked out on short notice. Now bicycles lean forlornly against deserted porches and the gardens stand neglected.

Marines have dug in at outposts ringed the fenced base. All approaches are guarded by sand-bagged checkpoints. The Marines carry new M14 rifles and light machine guns.

Tents dot the lush golf course and cactus-covered hillsides.

Newsmen were allowed on the base Friday for the first time since the quarantine went into effect against Cuba.

Literally scores of concrete-block pillboxes with interlocking fields of fire have appeared.

Some still are unfinished. Those completed are little fortresses in themselves, banked with earth and topped with sandbags and steel plate.

Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, the base commander, said there were no signs of a Cuban military buildup around Guantanamo, although an estimated 7,000 to 10,000 Cuban soldiers and militiamen remain on duty around the base.

The 3,000 Cuban civilians who still work here dashed toward the main gate. Once they ambled and laughed.

They race now, a guard explained, because they fear being detained by Cuban intelligence officers who have established a checkpoint 400 yards from the gate.

If one worker is detained for questioning, all others must wait until the interrogators are through with him.

Official Count Confirms Tax Levy Results

Tally Is Certified To State Secretary By Election Board

The County Election Board today certified the official results of Tuesday's general election to the secretary of state's office after completing the final tabulation early Friday night.

The official returns confirmed the narrow victories of the county home tax levy and a new 2-mill levy for East Liverpool schools and passage of a new 5-mill operating levy for Wellsville schools.

The board finished the tabulation at 7:30 p. m. Friday and the final results will be certified under today's date, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

The count showed 33,942 voters went to the polls in the county's 165 precincts, 103 more than indicated by the unofficial total Tuesday night.

The final tabulation boosted the margin by which the seven-tenths mill levy for the county home was passed by 784 votes, an increase of 31 from the unofficial totals.

The margin for the new East Liverpool levy was dropped to 612 votes from 634 while Wellsville's levy won by 115 rather than 119 indicated by the unofficial returns.

The board, which is the official collection center for returns in races for 18th District congressman and state senator from the 20th-22nd district, is awaiting certification of final results in

Former City Clerk's Trial Reset Nov. 26

The embezzlement trial of Miss Roberta Smith, 36, of Fairmont St., former clerk in the city water department offices, has been postponed from Tuesday to Nov. 26, according to Norman Ward, assignment commissioner in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

The case involving a $23,841 shortage in funds of the water and sewage departments, was to have been held Tuesday before Judge Joel H. Sharp but was continued when several witnesses were unable to attend trial next week.

In place of that trial, Judge Sharp will be asked to hear the case of Mrs. Jane Case of Columbiana to force the two Republican county commissioners to return her to her telephone operator's position in the Court-house.

Mrs. Case was found to have engaged in political activities in violation of Civil Service but instead of being fired, the State Personnel Board, by a 2-to-1 vote ordered a suspension.

The appeal from this ruling was filed by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw in behalf of the two commissioners on two grounds—that the order of the Personnel Board is not supported by substantial evidence and that it is not in accordance with the law.

Judge Sharp has already heard testimony on the county's contention that an unusual hardship will result on the commissioners if she is ordered rehired, but has not given his decision. He probably will not rule until the entire issue is decided.

X-15 Rocket Plane Flips; Pilot's Okay

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — An X15 rocket plane, spinning out of control during an emergency landing, flipped over twice on a dry lake bed and left its pilot dangling upside down by his straps.

The pilot, veteran John McKay, thought it all over and decided: "That was a damned good landing — up to a point."

McKay, who suffered only superficial injuries, will fly again. The X15 may not.

McKay's trouble actually started Friday when he was 45,000 feet up. That's where his X15 was released by its mother ship, a B52 bomber.

From there he was supposed to take his ship up to 120,000 feet and test its stability while re-entering the earth's atmosphere.

7 At Irondale Flee Fire But Home's Razed

An Irondale family of seven fled safely from their burning home early today, but the flames destroyed the one-story dwelling and all their possessions.

Left homeless by the fire at 12:35 a.m. were Carl Lee, 32, his wife, Mrs. Jessie Lee, their four young children and a brother, Preston Lee.

The fire broke out while the occupants of the five-room frame were asleep and it had a racing start. Firemen from Wellsville and Irondale looked on helplessly as it was too far gone. But they succeeded in preventing damage to a next-door home that was threatened.

The family was routed by Lee after his wife had been awakened by an explosion. The couple saw the youngsters and the brother to safety outdoors, then Lee returned and summoned firemen.

But a mixup occurred in reporting the fire and the flames licked through the phone line while Wellsville firemen were being summoned, adding to the confusion.

Lee told firemen he called an operator, asked for the fire department, and was referred to Wellsville. The Wellsville exchange also serves Irondale. Lee was able to report only that his home in Cream City was ablaze before the flames broke the circuit.

Not knowing whether Irondale firemen were aware of the fire, (Turn to FIRE, Page 2)

Game Reset Tonight After 1.31-Inch Rain

Friday's rainstorms, which forced postponement of the Pottery-Leopards game to tonight, produced 1.31 inches of precipitation for the heaviest fall in a 24-hour period in weeks.

Stratton Dam said most of the rain fell early last night although there were frequent drizzles yesterday. The rain continued intermittently during the night until skies cleared about 7 a.m. as the sun appeared.

The heavy rain, accompanied by 66-mph. gales in some areas, continued to batter the Atlantic Coast today. The downpours soaked a wide area from the East Coast north into New York State and westward into Kentucky and Tennessee and into the Carolinas. Flooding was feared in areas from Virginia into southern New England after a 5-inch fall. Norfolk, Va., had heavy winds. Tonight will be cooler and Sunday will be cloudy with seasonable temperatures.

Rest Slated To Go Out On Monday

Several Inspected; U.S. Troubled Over Bombers In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half the 40-odd Soviet missiles secretly installed in Cuba are reported on their way back to Russia. The rest are due to be headed home by Monday night.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev is also understood to be pulling out several thousand military technicians assigned to the Cuban rocket bases.

Missile-Laden Red Ship Guided By Navy

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—The U.S. Navy guided missile ship Dahlgren grimly escorted a Soviet freighter, apparently carrying eight ballistic missiles on her deck, through the windward passage today.

The 12,000-ton Leninsky Komsomol was riding so high in the water she appeared to be sailing in ballast—evidence that the Soviets were hurrying to remove the 1,200 and 2,000-mile range missiles from Cuba.

But there were indications the end of the U.S. blockade may not be soon.

Khrushchev's cleanup of the known missile sites—and at an unexpected speed—coincides with the apparent end of Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's mission to Havana.

U.S. officials now take it Mikoyan has failed in any effort he may have made to pressure Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro into accepting international inspection to verify removal of the missiles and dismantling of the bases.

In Havana, Mikoyan was reported to have conferred again Friday night with Castro after having spent Thursday touring collective farms with him. But Washington officials believe Mikoyan may leave this weekend.

So far as President Kennedy is concerned, officials said, this assumed failure of Mikoyan means Khrushchev will not live up to that part of his Cuban crisis agreement that called for international verification.

Kennedy, informants added, plans to maintain a prolonged naval blockade and aerial surveillance of the island to safeguard against any new sneak Soviet operation.

Bid On Bridge Is $2,419,867

Offers Opened For Project At Midland

Bids for the superstructure of the Midland-Shippingsport Bridge were opened in Harrisburg Friday and the unofficial low offer was the $2,419,867 of the Ben Construction Co. of Pittsburgh.

The State Highway Department will study the bids before a contract is awarded.

The unofficial low bid, added to the substructure bid of $1,424,290 awarded last March, brings the total cost to $3,844,157, or $655,823 under the estimated cost of $4½ million.

The project is being financed on a 50-50 basis by the federal government and the state.

The Ben Construction Co. is the present sub-contractor for the excavation and preparation of the approach work for the general contractor, W. P. Dickerson & Son, Inc., of Youngwood, Pa., who received the substructure contract last March.

The bridge is being erected in Shippingsport and Industry Boroughs, about half a mile east of Midland.

Fire

Wellsville firemen sped to the scene. Meanwhile, Mrs. Stella Nightingale, a neighbor of the Lee family, summoned Irondale firemen and the departments arrived about the same time.

But the home was nearly consumed by then, and firemen concentrated their efforts on playing water on the roof and sides of the Nightingale home next door. It was undamaged.

Wellsville received the alarm at 12:35 and Fire Chief Robert Lewis and nine other men responded with the fire truck and an emergency vehicle. Irondale firemen received the alarm at 12:50, and Fire Chief Oliver Nicholson, 12 men, and two fire trucks raced to the scene.

In addition to the home and its contents, the flames destroyed a 1952 model 1½-ton truck parked in the front yard and $600 in tools stored in the basement.

The vehicle is owned by David Fortino of the Northern Builders Co. of Pittsburgh, contractor of a project of digging out the basement and building a new foundation under the dwelling. The vehicle was parked close to the front porch. Crews arrived today to finish laying basement walls and found only the rubble left by the fire.

Chief Nicholson reported the cause of the fire was undetermined. He was unable to estimate the loss until after an investigation is completed. The home was insured for $8,000. There was no explanation for the explosion.

Lee's brother, Preston, was awakened just as the floors of his bedroom began to sag as the supports burned. The children are Fletcher Lee, 7, Coral, 6, Myra Jo, 3 and Carl Lee Jr., one-year.

Chief Nicholson has asked that all village residents ask specifically for the Irondale fire department when phoning in alarms. "Then in case we do need Wellsville's aid, firemen there won't think it's another mixup," Chief Nicholson added. The emergency fire number for Irondale is LE 2-1501.

The Lee home was located on the outskirts of the village, near the small community of Cream City.

Man Injured In Car Crash

An East End motorist was hurt slightly when his auto rammied a parked car early this morning in the 1100 block of Pennsylvania Ave. in a mishap which he blamed on his windshield wipers.

Ollie Creamer, 60, of 1752 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. was treated at City Hospital at 1:15 a. m. for contusions of the nose after his 1954 sedan struck the rear of a parked car owned by Bernard Keuper, 1180 Pennsylvania Ave.

The mishap occurred at 12:45 a. m., about 200 feet east of Sylvan St., police said.

Creamer told police he was driving east about 20 miles an hour in the rain. His windshield wipers were not working properly, Creamer said, and he didn't see Keuper's auto.

A crash at 7:09 p. m. Friday at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce Sts. damaged autos operated by Daner D. Adkins, 21, of 2216 Crawford Ave. and James P. Bise, 20, of R. D. 2.

Police said both motorists were making turns.

William Ankrom of Westfield told police yesterday afternoon the left side of his 1957 auto was damaged by a hit-skip driver while parked on Lincoln Ave. between 10 p. m. Thursday and 6 a. m. yesterday.

Lisbon BPW To Hold Mental Health Drive

LISBON — The Business and Professional Women's Club will conduct a fund drive Thursday from 5 to 7 p. m. for the Columbiana County Mental Health Association's campaign to finance a clinic. Mrs. Albert Burson is chairman.

Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool discussed the county's need for a clinic at the club's dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the Wick Hotel when the project was adapted.

The county goal is $22,000 with the state matching funds two-to-one. Lisbon's goal is $800.

William Hiscox of Lisbon discussed how to conduct a campaign. He was one of the workers for the retarded children's levy approved in May.

Parked Auto Damaged

LISBON — Clarence Kannel, 226 E. Chestnut St., reported to police at 2:55 a. m. today his 1957 Ford sedan was struck while parked in front of his home. He said he heard the crash, got up and drove around town but couldn't locate the other car. Police estimated damages at less than $100 to the left door and panel.

After The First Nov. 11

No one who remembers when Armistice Day began can think of Nov. 11 without longing for an emotion whose strength has not been equalled since the end of World War I.

Americans knew then more clearly and certainly than they have known anything since then that their participation in the war had made the world safe for democracy.

Their republic had interceded in the tangled and corrupt affairs of the Old World and it was a foregone conclusion in the closing weeks of 1918 that the Old World would benefit permanently from the cool, sure touch of the saviors from America.

It was in everybody's heart that the American men who had died on European soil must not have died in vain; that their government forthwith would win the peace as handily as they had won the war.

THERE WAS to be an end once and for all to despotism.

The Divine Right of Kings had been fractured and scattered to the winds.

The victors would be magnanimous and the losers would be grateful for their magnanimity.

Civilization had been born anew, free from its shortcomings and grotesqueries.

When the Americans came marching home they were knights returning from a crusade. Americans felt good about the way the United States had broken out of isolationism. Johnny marched home like a crusader who had slain all the dragons. He felt good.

The buddies who were killed "over there" were hostages to the good faith of the nation that had pledged itself to destroy despotism forever.

EMOTION has been blunted since World War I. The pure motives and the exalted dreams are something less than they used to be. Armistice Day now comes and goes under a new title—Veterans Day.

The United States has intervened in many places since World War I, and it has not been clear on all occasions what it was fighting to preserve. Certainly not democracy, when it intervened to save kings and despots. Certainly not freedom when it let its resources to save the apparatus of oppression. All honor to veterans. They have earned it.

But after the first Nov. 11 it never has been as easy as it was then to carry out orders to fight and die if need be.

They, themselves, have never been as sure of their purpose since the first time.

Support The Clinic

Twenty cents from every man, woman and child in the East Liverpool area.

That's the goal in the fund drive to be conducted Monday on behalf of a county mental health clinic.

More than 400 volunteer workers will take part in the solicitation to obtain $8,000, part of the county's $22,000 objective. The money raised is to be matched by state funds to provide a center at Lisbon where county residents with emotional and mental problems could get professional psychiatric help and guidance.

Such a clinic would serve a definite need. Facilities are lacking today for treatment of border line cases which quite often could be corrected if reached in time. The proposed clinic would assure such treatment and could be the means of keeping many off the tortuous path which leads to mental institutions or even prison.

The need is great and your requested contribution small. Do your part when the fund workers call Monday.

A Time For Bowing Out

Much is being made of Richard Nixon's bitterness against the press in his final public appearance after losing the California governorship to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In deference to his long service as a Republican stalwart, little will be made of another aspect of the former vice president's final public appearance. But it must be given attention too.

Why must it be his final public appearance? What requires him to bow out of politics because he lost the California governorship?

He still is the Republican presidential candidate who came within a technical whisker of winning the 1960 election and probably would have won it if his party had controlled the election apparatus in a few large cities. Why was it taken for granted that he would be through if he lost in California?

THERE IS A time for bowing out in politics.

Mr. Nixon has reached that time. He has nothing to gain by staying in politics as a loser. The Republican party would have something to lose if he did not understand this.

It made the mistake of losing too often with Thomas E. Dewey, just as the Democratic party made the mistake of losing too often with Adlai E. Stevenson.

Even when a political party is merely going through the motions of a presidential contest, as the Democratic party was doing in 1956, it owes it to its own public image to present new faces while it is marking time.

MR. NIXON would have been a topnotch

About Fame

We stood at the graveside of poet Ralph Hodgson when he was returned to dust on an Ohio hilltop. We wondered about fame.

Of those who were at his funeral, only the dead poet had an outside chance of being remembered. He had created a handful of polished poetry that sang of his deep compassion for all living things.

Yet, of all of us in the cemetery when he was laid to rest, Ralph Hodgson had lived perhaps the hardest and least polished life.

This fact about him has been avoided by most of those who respect his poetry: he was not easy to respect as an individual. All who scaled his high wall of personal privacy and were admitted to his presence reported a delightful experience.

But whether it was delightful only because they found something less than a man-eating tiger on the other side of the wall is something to wonder about. Ralph Hodgson was not a friendly, outgoing person. He wore his English "privacy" like a suit of armor.

It was not my privilege to get over his wall. I don't know how I might have felt if I had succeeded the one time I tried. When I was rebuffed, I never tried again. My respect for those who want privacy is absolute.

You stand at a graveside and wonder. When it's the graveside of a man who is famous you wonder about fame.

To have written any single one of his poems, thousands would have endured great privation. To have written all his poems many of us would have done anything within honor. We are that covetous of fame earned in the loneliest and least rewarding thing a man can do with his life.

But none of us would have traded places with the man Hodgson to have done what the poet Hodgson was able to do. His life was not a thing of notable beauty.

Match heads and cigarettes, handled by the thoughtless smokers, account for more than 200,000 fires a year in the U.S. About 1,200 people die in these fires.

Who Put Her In In The First Place?

Labor Pushes Shorter Work Week

By Victor Riesel

One of the biggest post-election stories lies in a batch of papers on the desk of a genial chap in a small suite of offices on E. 43rd St. in New York City. He grins when he is joshed about being the best-looking bald-headed man in the land. But he doesn't stop planning.

He is Leo Perlis, director of labor's Community Services Committee. He is preparing a national conference to which he refers as the most unique in modern civilization.

It will be the first official labor parley, when it is held in New York next March, to plan advising labor as it becomes the first proletarian "leisure class." Perlis has consulted with Mr. Labor himself, George Meany. Now Perlis will develop "scientific programs" for the leisure hours of union people "after the official 35-hour week at 40-hours pay is won."

THIS THERE IS no doubt that, with the election over, the AFL-CIO push for the bobtailed work week is on with the full power of labor and its special task forces behind it.

As labor's high command—the executive council members—and the leaders of 131 national unions gather here for their fall session, one of the inner sanctum in the national headquarters put it this way:

"We're serious. There's a liberal Congress as we count it. The drive for the 35-hour week is on. It is very much alive and tingling. It will take time to get there but we've hit the road."

"And there is nothing magical about the figure 35. Some unions will go for 32 and 30 hours and even a shorter work month or shorter work year. What we want is to cut the hours and increase the work force to make more jobs."

THE 35-HOUR WEEK special task force under Meany's personal aide, Lane Kirkland, is ready for action. It's a sort of central intelligence staff—ready to speed economic data, propaganda techniques, tactical advice and even organizers to any union which requests them. There will be requests.

In and out of the AFL-CIO, unions and even groups such as the professional big league ball players want a shorter season. The ball teams want to cut from six to nine games off their schedule.

This is one union drive which as yet has not had the support of labor's most powerful ally—President Kennedy. But now the labor men are wondering if there won't be a change in White House sentiment.

Some mighty bright political analysts here have been pulling apart the election returns. They find that the official Democratic-labor coalition lost its hold on millions of union voters. The coalition lost in its own factory-filled back yards. The partnership lost in the industrial complex of America—New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois.

IT LOST MICHIGAN to George Romney, though Walter Reuther had mobilized the usually highly effective battalions of political-battle veterans, the United Automobile Workers' shop stewards.

It lost Pennsylvania and Ohio, where labor's Committee on Political Education specialists are among the brightest strategists in the land.

It was defeated in areas where the AFL-CIO's special Registration Committee, under Roy Reuther's experienced direction, had enrolled millions of new voters from union membership, who in the past had not bothered to vote.

Jumbo Problem

Game authorities in Kenya unexpectedly face a jumbo problem: too many elephants.

As a species, elephants face extinction in Africa. But a recent aerial count in and around Tsavo National Park tallied 15,000 elephants in an area that can adequately support only 10,000.

An elephant eats a fifth of a ton of vegetation each day. Unless the elephant population is kept in balance, some animals such as the rhinoceros could be eaten out of house and home.

An area in which elephants have been feeding for several weeks begins to resemble a battlefield. It may not recover for years.

Protected elephants from game parks in a few other parts of Africa are also reported making thundering nuisances of themselves.

In Uganda, elephants have knocked down trees, trampled crops and chased people on the road at night. They have damaged mahogany trees worth $750 apiece by rubbing against the bark.

The South African Information Service warned tourists visiting Kruger Park this year: "Beware of Drunken Elephants." The animals apparently got tipsy from eating fermented marula berries and attacked several cars.

Because of the generally precarious state of African wildlife, conservationists hope they can find an alternative to killing surplus elephants where they are too concentrated. Outside the safety of reserves, poachers slaughter vast numbers each year for the ivory.

THE DEADLOCK on banning nuclear weapons tests goes back to the Baruch plan of 1946. The talks now being resumed in Geneva are the result of a resolution adopted unanimously by the United Nations General Assembly last December.

This, a kind of East-West compromise in its final form, asked "as a matter of urgency" that the new disarmament body seek agreement on "general and complete disarmament under effective international control."

Prior to the talks which began last March, American, British, and Soviet representatives had been engaging in what has been called the "dialogue among dead men" since Oct. 31, 1958. The nuclear powers had agreed on 18 sections of a draft treaty; the sticking point was the Russian insistence on veto power over inspection.

Balance Of Power

By David Lawrence

South Still Controls Political Picture

More Republican than Democratic votes were cast last Tuesday throughout the nation for senators and governors in the statewide races outside the 11 states of the "Solid South."

Thus, in the two-party areas of the North—from East to West—the latest available figures show that the vote for Republican candidates in the senatorial contests tallied 18,551,149 as against 10,074,307 for the Democratic candidates. The percentage was 50.6 Republican and 49.4 Democratic.

The same trend appeared in the vote for governors outside the 11 Southern states. The Republicans polled 17,256,261, or 51.9 per cent of the total, while the Democrats polled 15,990,095, or 48.1 per cent.

When the senatorial totals this year are compared with results in all states in the presidential voting in 1960—outside the 11 Southern states—a slight Republican gain appears. Two years ago the Nixon percentage outside the South was 50.3 and the Kennedy percentage was 49.7.

AS FOR THE governorship totals outside the South, the Republicans' 51.9 per cent this year is 1.6 percentage points above what it was in the presidential voting in the nation in 1960 apart from the Southern states.

These are Republican gains which do not show up in the number of senators elected. The Democrats actually gained three and possibly four seats in the Senate due to factional fights in the Republican party or local conditions. But the majorities were narrow in several instances where Democratic senators won re-election.

The figures are significant, however, because they show that the relative position of the two parties on a numerical basis in the North is about the same as it was in 1960.

As for the South, there were some close races in which Republicans polled an unusually high vote. They almost elected a senator in Alabama, where, out of a total vote of more than 394,500, only about 7,000 votes separated the two major parties. This is unprecedented.

Also, if the 1962 election results for governors were transformed into electoral votes today, President Kennedy could not be re-elected. Actually, he couldn't have been elected in 1960 without the electoral votes of the Southern states.

So the nation has been given another demonstration of the balance of power held by the 11 states in the South. The two-party system has been operating to some extent in Texas, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee in presidential races, but this is not true in congressional contests generally—though this time the Republicans in the South have captured 11 seats in the House and they have a senator from Texas.

Back To Geneva

By Richard Spong

Four years of talking at Geneva have produced no miracle, so it would be illogical to expect one from the resumption there of the 17-nation disarmament conference. Nevertheless, events of the two-month recess offer at least a small basis for optimism when talks resume Monday.

The first and chief reason for hope is that in Cuba the Soviet Union appears to have accepted the principle of international inspection. In the past the Soviet Union has been unyielding in its demand for a power of veto over on-site inspections of suspected clandestine tests of nuclear weapons.

Quite obviously Soviet Premier Khrushchev is not bound to accept the idea that what is proper for Castro's Cuba should be the rule for the Soviet Union. Nevertheless, the agreement on inspection of missile sites in Cuba at least strengthens a Western talking point in Geneva.

THE DEADLOCK on banning nuclear weapons tests goes back to the Baruch plan of 1946. The talks now being resumed in Geneva are the result of a resolution adopted unanimously by the United Nations General Assembly last December.

This, a kind of East-West compromise in its final form, asked "as a matter of urgency" that the new disarmament body seek agreement on "general and complete disarmament under effective international control."

Prior to the talks which began last March, American, British, and Soviet representatives had been engaging in what has been called the "dialogue among dead men" since Oct. 31, 1958. The nuclear powers had agreed on 18 sections of a draft treaty; the sticking point was the Russian insistence on veto power over inspection.

Soviet resumption of atmospher-

If a two-party system were to be established in state and local as well as in presidential and congressional contests in the South, the Democratic party might have a hard time winning the presidency of a majority in Congress.

While it is well known, for instance, that many of the Democrats in the south are on the conservative and anti-radical side, there are others in the so-called "liberal" category. Various Republican candidates for Congress in the Southern areas, moreover, campaigned this year on the issue that their opponents were not sufficiently Southern in their viewpoint and didn't protest vigorously enough the sending of federal troops to Mississippi.

There are signs that the South may be ready for a bolt from the Democratic party in the next presidential election. It could turn out that the misuse of federal power attributed to President Kennedy in the South could cost him electoral votes next time.

The tendency heretofore has been for the independents to support a "states' rights" ticket for the electoral college, but the movement has not been organized intensively. This is because the Democratic members of Congress from the South feel they cannot desert their party, as it might lose them the chairmanships of important committees or seniority in rank.

THERE MAY COME a time when the Southern states will elect to Congress many more Republican senators and representatives to take up their cause as against those on the Democratic side who wobble on issues vital to the Southern states.

Certainly this week's elections prove that the Republican and Democratic voter strength outside the "Solid South" is about even today across the nation and that inroads can be made even in the South by candidates from the conservative side nominated on the Republican ticket.

This, plus the narrow majorities of the Democratic senators in some of the larger states in the North and the winning of Republican governorships in such states as Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio—where the electoral votes at stake are large—can hardly be interpreted as a Kennedy "victory." It looks more like a Republican upsurge and the manifestation of a decidedly conservative trend among the voters.

Except for the many millions of dollars raised by the labor unions and used in the campaigns mostly in behalf of Democrats, the story on the gains and losses in the House and Senate might have been different.

Never in history has so much money been spent in a congressional campaign by labor unions as was expended this year. It mostly for "precinct workers" who use various means of persuasion to "line up the vote." But, even so, the Republican vote outnumbered the Democratic in the state-wide contests outside the South.

ic testing last September dashed any remaining hopes for agreement on this point, and on last Jan. 29, after 353 sessions, the prolonged three-day conference was adjourned.

In the 17-nation discussions the East will be represented, as in the past, by the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Romania. The West was to have been represented by the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, and Canada, but President de Gaulle has taken the position that there's no point in talking with the Soviet Union at this time.

Eight relatively independent nations are participating: Mexico and Brazil, representing Latin America; Burma and India, for Asia; Ethiopia, Nigeria, and the United Arab Republic, for Africa and the Middle East, and Sweden, a neutral European nation.

THE UNITED STATES has a certain psychological advantage as the body reconvenes. The atmospheric tests we resumed in late April—our most extensive tests since 1945—were concluded on Nov. 4. The Soviet Union, which began testing again in August after a pause, is apparently still in the midst of its planned series.

2 Boys Admit City Burglary

Two boys, 13 and 14, taken into custody Friday by Capt. Robert H. Pyle, admitted the Oct. 29 burglary of a North Side home that netted them at least $15 from a piggy bank, along with two wristwatches and several cigarette lighters, police said.

Taken before Juvenile Officer James Miller at City Hall, the boys were remanded before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon for a hearing Monday, Nov. 26. They are accused of burglary of the home of Arch Smith, 925 McKinnon Ave.

In his report to police about 24 hours after the entry, Smith said the loot included a large piggy bank containing $25 to $30, a man's 21-jewel wristwatch and six cigarette lighters. The house was not locked. The intruders entered sometime between 7:45 a.m. and 7:15 p.m.

The boys claimed they obtained only $15 and $18 from the bank, which they divided and spent, police said. However, they said they stole two wristwatches instead of one. They concealed the watches, but when they returned to the hiding place, both were gone, they said.

The youths said they obtained four cigarette lighters instead of six, but threw them all away because they would not work.

Acting on a tip, Capt. Pyle picked up both boys at their schools yesterday morning. The boys told the officer they attempted to enter several other houses in the same neighborhood on the same date, but found the doors locked.

OVIA Requests Speed For Fund On River Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ohio Valley Improvement Association has urged the Budget Bureau to speed a $1 billion program to modernize the Ohio River navigation system.

An association statement Friday said traffic congestion on the big waterway threatens to curtail the economic strength and security of the nation.

Among other things, the Budget Bureau was urged to approve funds within the next year for construction of the Hannibal and Racine locks between Ohio and West Virginia; a replacement structure for Locks and Dams 48 and 49 between Indiana and Kentucky; and the Newburgh Locks and Dams between Indiana and Kentucky.

The association also recommended approval of funds to start planning of the Willow Island Locks and Dam between Illinois and Kentucky.

The group also urged approval of 60 flood-control reservoirs in 10 states, including Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Sued By Los Angeles GOP Head California Democrat Unit Target Of $600,000 Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The chairman of the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee is suing the Democratic State Central Committee for $600,000 in damages.

Julius A. Leatham charged in a suit filed Friday that the Democratic committee tried to embarrass him and destroy his professional reputation by making him a defendant in an earlier court action.

In the earlier action, the Democrats got a restraining order prohibiting further distribution of a campaign pamphlet called "California Dynasty of Communism." They said the pamphlet implied Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other Democratic candidates were "soft on communism."

The Democrats sought $500,000 in damages from Karl Prussion, author of the pamphlet, and several other defendants.

Leatham was not cited by name

Boltons In Congress Make Unique Situation

CLEVELAND (AP)—Oliver P. Bolton is following not only in his father's footsteps, but his mother's as well. And it makes for a unique situation in Congress.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton, a spry 77, won her 13th election to Congress Tuesday. Her son, a comebacking two-term congressman who bowed out in 1956 because of a heart ailment, defeated Democratic incumbent Robert E. Cook by 1,500 votes in the adjoining Northeast Ohio area 11th District.

Both Boltons are Republicans and the only mother and son combination in history of Congress.

Oliver "paddles his own canoe," says Mrs. Bolton, asked if her son follows her voting patterns.

"With a busy session coming up, I don't know how much I'll be able to see my son," said the venerable congresswoman, who will be the senior GOP member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. "But we will be working

'Democratic Form' Set Up For Ohioans, Attorney Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland attorney Robert E. Sweeney today announced the formation of the "American Democratic Forum" to inform Ohioans of the principles and philosophy of the Democratic party.

Sweeney was the Democratic nominee for Ohio attorney general in this week's election. He lost to William Saxbe in the Republican landslide.

"Instead of dwelling on the painful results of last Tuesday's election, we must consider the lesson it teaches us," Sweeney said. "It is clear that the Democratic party in Ohio, if it is to regain its high position, must forsake personality conflicts and animosities and dedicate itself to informing voters of the basic, intrinsic differences between the Republican and Democratic philosophies of government."

Sweeney said the forum would complement the regular Democratic organization in Ohio and work in harmony with it.

He envisions an organization based along the lines of the

Clinic's Auto Plan Detailed

Replying to a Lisbon area woman's complaint that her auto was ticketed at an E. 4th St. meter when she took her child to the cerebral palsy clinic in the Mary Patterson Memorial, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said today the city has made special concessions to allow the afflicted children to be taken in and out of cars a few feet from the clinic's door in Cherry Alley.

Owen said a stretch of Cherry Alley was set aside some time ago to allow persons to park briefly when taking the children to the clinic's classes or when picking them up afterward. The parents and the clinic have been advised that they need only turn on the parking lights when halting outside the clinic in order to distinguish the car as one used to take a child to the clinic, he said.

The city's plan provides that the car should be moved within 15 minutes to some other parking site after the child has been taken into the clinic, he said. The same arrangement for brief parking directly outside the door applies when parents are picking up children after a clinic session, the director said.

The woman motorist had complained that an E. 4th St. parking meter did not work, although she inserted a nickel and five pennies. She said she left a note on the meter to explain, but was ticketed regardless.

Owen explained the city's 1947 model meters register on such a combination of coins only if the pennies are inserted first and then the nickel. Regardless, a 10-cent payment would not have covered the parking time for the clinic's four - hour session from 1 to 5 p.m., he said.

When Will Taft Take Court Seat? Observers Ask

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Political observers were wondering today whether Republican Chief Justice-elect Kingsley A. Taft will take over his new post on schedule Jan. 1 or wait until the Republican governor is inaugurated.

At stake is the two-year interim appointment as Taft's successor as a judge of the high court. Taft's term as judge expires Jan. 1, 1967.

If Taft takes his oath as chief justice Jan. 1 as the law specifies, it will give outgoing Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle 13 days to appoint Taft's successor. After Jan. 14—Inauguration Day—Gov. elect James A. Rhodes would make the appointment.

The exact situation never has arisen before because Taft's successful effort to unseat Democratic Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt was the first time in the long history of the court that a sitting judge challenged a sitting justice.

The judge appointed to the high court—whether by Disalle or Rhodes—will serve until his successor is elected and qualified in the 1964 general election.

Holt To Seek 300 More Special Classes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for the Ohio Department of Education says Supt. E. E. Holt will ask the State Board of Education Monday for an additional 223 classes in special education and 77 more in vocational training.

If these are approved, Ohio will have 2,082 special education classes and 1,113 in vocational training, paid through the state foundation program.

Bulgaria Red Purge Looms As Widening

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP)—The reported house arrest of ousted Premier Anton Yugov pointed today to a widening purge of Bulgarian Communists tainted with Stalinism.

Informants said that Yugov, ousted along with six other party leaders last Sunday, was placed under guard in his home Thursday night shortly after he was condemned before the party congress as an advocate of the personality cult who misused his power to persecute political rivals.

One party leader after another got up to condemn Yugov and his associates as criminals who deserved the maximum punishment possible under Bulgarian law for using terroristic methods against what they called some of the best forces in Bulgarian communism.

Up to now, party sources have not said what this would involve. "It certainly looks as if many of them are going to get the axe," a neutral observer said.

So far, all those expelled from their positions were closely associated with Yugov while he was interior minister from 1944 to 1949, the year that saw Bulgaria engulfed in a wave of terrorism which sent thousands of Communists and non-Communists to the gallows.

Ohio Farm Bureau Will Decide On Issues

LISBON — Taxation, a national farm program and bargaining were the leading contenders in issues to be voted upon by 247 official delegates to the annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation in Columbus Monday through Wednesday, according to Allen Chamberlin of Leontonia R. D. 2, president of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau.

The final session of the 15-member state policy development committee has completed its classification of recommendations from farmers in every Ohio county.

"More than 4,000 ideas thus far have been submitted to the committee on 10 county Farm Bureau presidents and five members of the state Board of Trustees," Chamberlin said.

Upon preparing a tentative slate of some 250 proposed policies for action by elected delegates, the committee found the largest number of responses making those recommendations to the annual meeting.

Doctors To Meet

STEUBENVILLE — Dr. Victor George DeWolfe, professor of medicine in the Cleveland Clinic Educational Foundation, will address the Fort Steuben Academy of Medicine at a meeting Tuesday at 8:15 in the Fort Steuben Hotel. Rail Merger Discussion Set At Wellsville Tuesday Night

The proposed merger of the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads will be aired publicly for the first time in the district Tuesday night at 7:30 in the visual education room of Daw Junior High School in Wellsville.

Pittsburgh May Get Merged Rail Offices

PITTSBURGH — Officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central said they would have no objections to establishing headquarters here in case merger of the two huge railroad systems is approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A. E. Pearlman, president of New York Central, commented while in Pittsburgh Friday for the inspection of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad, NYC subsidiary. James M. Symes, Pennsy's president, said at his home near Philadelphia that choice of headquarters would be up to the merged Board of Directors. NYC's headquarters are now in New York City and the Pennsy's in Philadelphia. About 500 jobs would go with the headquarters.

The speakers will include a representative from Pennsy's public relations office in Pittsburgh, and

R. E. Swert of Cleveland, national chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's "Committee to Preserve Railroad Service."

In addition, a member of the Brotherhood's Ohio committee opposing the merger, D. E. Patmore, national assistant co-ordinator of the union's committee, and Frank DeLongo, Wellsville City Councilman and a Pennsy conductor, will also appear.

The brotherhood committee's ultimate goal is to thwart the proposed merger by arousing public sympathy, and attempting to persuade local governing bodies to intervene and request area field hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Other public meetings on the proposed merger have been held in Youngstown, Columbus, Cleveland, Crestline, Altoona, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Erie, New Castle and Pittsburgh. The committee is seeking to "make the public aware of the effect such a merger would have on the economy of a particular community."

At Tuesday's meeting, the committee contends it "can make the public aware of the adverse effects such a merger would have on the economy of Wellsville and surrounding communities, due to the loss of tax revenue, as well as reduced spending brought about by job eliminations."

Nov. 20 Is Deadline To Mail Parcels For Men Overseas

Only 10 days remain in which to mail Christmas parcels to armed forces personnel serving overseas to assure delivery before the holiday.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said packages destined for surface transportation should be mailed by Nov. 20 for delivery prior to the holiday. Airmail packages may be sent up to Dec. 10.

To have a reasonable expectation of delivery before Christmas, greeting cards also should be mailed within the designated periods, the postmaster added.

"Armed forces personnel" covers not only members of the armed forces but their families and civilians employed overseas who receive their mail through

Army, Fleet or Navy Post Offices.

Postage must be prepaid with domestic rates applying. When fourth-class parcel rates apply, the zone rate from the post office where mailed to the office through which the parcel is addressed will be charged.

Questions and Answers

about The East Liverpool Review Reader Accident Insurance Protection for Your Family

These questions are often asked by people interested in providing low cost accident insurance protection for themselves and members of their families. If you have other questions call the Review insurance department, 385-4545. now.

Who Can Get Review Accident Insurance?

Any subscriber to the Review or member of his immediate family is eligible for this protection, if he or she is over 1 and under 75.

Is A Medical Examination Required?

No!

Are Firemen, Policemen, Truck, Bus and Cab Drivers Covered While On Duty?

The policy gives 24 hour a day coverage, at home, at work, at play and while traveling. Even those engaged in the more hazardous than usual occupations listed above are covered while they are working. The only persons who are not covered while working are miners aircraft pilots and crew members and race drivers. When not at work these persons are covered like anyone else.

What Is the Cost of the Insurance?

The cost of the policy is only 10c per week. The premium is for each person insured.

What Does the Policy Pay?

Amounts paid depend on the nature of the accident in which the injury is sustained as well as the extent of the injury. For loss of a limb, sight or life from accidental injuries the policy provides for cash payments ranging from $250 to $10,000. It also provides for disability benefits of from $30 a month for not more than 4 months to $100 (up to 6 months.)

Do I Collect Anything for Minor Injuries?

Minor injuries that do not cause disability, such as minor cuts, burns, etc. are also covered by this liberal policy. It provides that if medical treatment is required for a minor, non-disabling injury for which no other claim is made, the insured will be paid the expense actually incurred for such treatment, not in excess of $6 for the first treatment and $3 for each subsequent treatment up to $21.

Will This Policy Cover Persons in the Army, Navy or Air Force?

Yes, as long as they are within the land limits of the 50 United States and provided the injury is not caused by military or naval action, air raid or any other act of war.

What Kind of Injuries Are Covered?

ALL kinds of ACCIDENTAL injuries—cuts, sprains, burns broken bones—everything except gas or poison vapor). The amount the policy pays depends on HOW the injury is sustained and the EXTENT of the injuries.

Suppose a Person Has a Heart Attack or a Stroke, Is He Covered?

No. This policy pays benefits ONLY for ACCIDENTAL INJURIES and POLIO EXPENSE. Except for Polio sickness or disability from natural causes are NOT covered.

If My Husband Gets Hurt At Work He Will Collect Workmen's Compensation While He Is Disabled. Would This Policy Also Pay?

Yes. Regardless of what you may collect from any other insurance, this policy will pay the full benefit for disability, hospital confinement or loss of limb, sight or life. In the case of medical treatment or X-Ray examination of accidental injuries this policy would NOT pay if the charge for this treatment or examination were paid by the employer or compensation insurance.

The Policy States That To Collect Disability Indemnity the Insured Must Be "Wholly Disabled". Does This Mean He Must Be Confined to Bed or Home?

No. "Wholly disabled" means that the insured is not able to perform his usual duties.

I Already Have Hospital Insurance. What Good Would This Policy Be To Me?

In ADDITION to what your Hospital Insurance would pay, this policy would pay you $5.00 a day for not more than 60 days ($300.00 maximum) if you are confined to a hospital as the result of accidental injuries for which disability benefits are payable. The money would be paid to you, not the hospital, and you could use it to help pay the doctor or anything else you might wish. And remember, HOSPITAL benefits are in ADDITION to the DISABILITY benefits the policy pays.

Would This Policy Cover Me Any Place I Might Go?

It would cover you anywhere within the limits of the United States, the Dominion of Canada or Mexico in North America. If you went outside these countries you would not be covered.

Just How Much Would I Collect If I Broke My Leg In An Automobile Accident?

The exact amount would depend on how long your broken leg caused you to be disabled. However, let us assume that you were in an auto wreck. (It doesn't make any difference whether you are driving or riding as a passenger.) Your leg was broken and it was necessary to call an ambulance to take you to the hospital. At the hospital an X-Ray would be made of your leg and because it is a serious fracture, you would have to stay in the hospital for 30 days. After you get out it would be 3 more months before you could get back to work again. Here is what the policy would pay:

Ambulance expenseup to $ 10.00
X-Ray expenseup to 10.00
Hospital—30 days @ $5 a day150.00
Disability—4 months @ $50 a month200.00
	$370.00

Actually the maximum payable in this type accident would be $620.00 if the injuries necessitated confinement in the hospital for 60 days and the insured is disabled for 6 months and the maximum Ambulance and X-Ray expense were incurred.

Explain How the Benefits Increase.

The benefits payable for the loss of life, a hand, a foot or an eye increase 10% each year that the policy is kept continuously in force until 50% has been added to the amounts set out in the policy. For instance, if a policyholder were killed in a train wreck during the first year that his policy was in force, his family would receive $10,000.00 in cash, as provided in Part 1 of the policy. If the wreck occurred during the SECOND year that his policy was in force, his family would receive $11,000.00 in cash, as provided in Part 1 of the policy. If the wreck occurred during the THIRD year the policy was in force, the benefit would be $12,000.00 plus $2,000.00 in ACCUMULATIONS making a total of $14,000.00. The fourth year benefit would increase to $15,000.00 and the fifth year the policy would pay $16,000.00. After the fifth year, as long as the policy is in force, the maximum benefit of $15,000.00 would be paid. This same 10% rate of increase would apply to benefits paid for loss of life, limb or sight under parts 2, 3, 4, & 5 of the policy. After age 60 benefits for loss of life, sight and limbs reduced in half.

Benefits payable for Disability, Medical treatment, Hospital confinement, X-Ray examination, Ambulance service and Polio expense do NOT reduce but remain the same during the entire life of the policy.

A DEPENDABLE NEWSPAPER SERVING THE TRI-STATE AREA

East Liverpool And Midland Fray Reset For Tonight

Heavy Rain Postpones Friday Tilt

The East Liverpool - Midland game will be played tonight beginning at 8 at the Midland High School Stadium.

The contest was postponed Friday about one half hour before game time as a driving rain turned the Midland gridiron into a sea of mud as a handful of fans gathered outside the field.

ELHS Band Members To Meet At 7 P.M.

Vincent Maola, East Liverpool High School band director, has requested band members to meet tonight at 7 at Memorial Auditorium for the trip to Midland.

Both teams were dressed at the Midland High School located two blocks from the field when the decision was made to postpone the contest.

Tonight's game marks the finale for Midland which takes a 3-4 record into the battle while East Liverpool is working with a 2-6 mark and closes its season next week at Patterson against Alliance, which tied Niles, 12-12, Friday night.

The Midland - East Liverpool series in 11 games stands at five wins each while one other contest wound up in a tie.

Lineups for tonight's game will remain the same.

Never Bend 'On Spot' At Garden State

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—If Never Bend is a super horse, as many believe, this will be the day he can prove it in the Garden State Stakes where 2-year-old champions usually are nailed down.

Seven audacious and not-so-confident owners put up $2,000 apiece to tackle the Cain Hoy Stable colt in the 10th running of Garden State Park's contribution to spreading the wealth. Actually, the hopeful ones apparently are looking at second, third and fourth money from a gross pot of $274,530. Second is $54,906, with $27,453 for third and $14,726.50 for fourth.

Never Bend is within striking distance of becoming the wealthiest 2-year-old in history. He has collected $375,616 and a victory in this championship gallop will gain him another $164,718 and $540,334 in the bank note department. First Landing, who won the 1958 Garden State, holds the record of $396,460 in a single season.

Never Bend, owned by Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, the New York copper magnate, is the 1-5 favorite in the 11-16 mile race. He's the first horse ever slated to go off odds-on-favorite in the race, and eight starters is the smallest field. Warfare beat nine rivals in 1950, smallest before now.

George D. Widener's Crewman, only horse Never Bend hasn't beaten, is rated second choice at 6-1. He has won three straight. Third choice at 10-1 is Ada L. Rice's Right Proud, who ran second and 5 lengths behind Never Bend in the Garden State Trial Nov. 2.

Others entered were In The Pocket, Master Dennis, Rural Retreat and Air Spin.

Baylor Loops 41 Points In Laker Win Over Celts

By The Associated Press
Los Angeles' rebounding Lakers have served notice they've come all the way back from a four-game losing streak that slowed them in the opening phase of the National Basketball Association season.

The Lakers got a 41-point performance from brilliant Elgin Baylor Friday night and beat the Boston Celtics 133-120.

The loss dropped the perennial champion Celtics into second place in the Eastern Division behind Syracuse, which scored a 101-93 triumph over St. Louis.

Cincinnati fought off a last-minute New York rally and broke a three-game losing string, 122-119. San Francisco overcame Chicago 134-126 in other NBA action.

The Lakers, who lost the deciding seventh playoff game in overtime to Boston for the championship last season, won at the foul line. The Celtics outscored the Lakers 53-52 in field goals, but Los Angeles connected on 29 of 41 free throws while Boston hit only 14 of 21.

N. Cumberland Tops Chester, 14-0, For 8th Win

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1962 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 10

YOU CAN'T TELL the players without a scorecard, but in this case a scorecard wouldn't help as mud covers Chester and New Cumberland gridders Friday night at Chester. This photo shows Allan Pettit (center) going over for New Cumberland's final touchdown with 17 seconds remaining in the game. New Cumberland defeated the Panthers, 14-0.

THIS HANDFUL of fans, and there weren't many more than that at Chester Friday night, puts up an umbrella brigade in an effort to keep dry on a very wet Friday night.

Today's Moment Of Decision

Wildcats Eye Badgers, Rose Bowl

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Rags-to-riches Northwestern reached its moment of decision today when it met strong Wisconsin in a battle that could send Northwestern to the threshold of the Rose Bowl.

Northwestern, No. 1 team in the country in The Associated Press poll, on a 6-0 record, came out of nowhere this year on the pin-point passing arm of Tom Myers.

But Wisconsin, loser only to Ohio State, and No. 8 in the poll, has been waiting to ambush Ara Parseghian's club. The Badgers think they have the answer to Myers in Ron Vanderkelen. Like Myers, he has gained more than 700 yards through the air.

If Northwestern gets past Wisconsin, it will only have to hurdle Michigan State to insure a spot in the Rose Bowl.

Matter of fact, Southern California, No. 2 in the country and the class of the Big Six, can take a giant step toward the host's spot in the Rose Bowl by stopping Stanford. The Indians are no easy marks, though. They upset both Michigan State and UCLA.

A victory over Stanford would leave only UCLA for Southern California to handle before looking to the bowl.

Meanwhile, Alabama, No. 3, and still hoping to win the national championship for the second straight year, had a date with tough Miami (Fla.) at Tuscaloosa.

The Crimson tide, unbeaten in 26 straight games, rated as a two-touchdown favorite. The game was expected to develop into a pitching duel between Joe Namath of Alabama and George Mira of Miami.

Mississippi, No. 4 in the country, figured to have no trouble with Chattanooga at Oxford, Miss.

Texas, No. 5 (6-0-1), and Arkansas, No. 6 (6-1), the two top powers in the Southwest conference, both were favored. The Longhorns met rebounding Baylor, while Arkansas played Rice.

Missouri, No. 7, undefeated but one tied, went against Colorado in a Big Eight game hoping to cement its hold on the league lead and begin looking ahead to the Orange Bowl.

Louisiana State, No. 9, plays Texas Christian in a night game. Minnesota, No. 10, tangled with Iowa.

Packers, Giants Heading For 2nd Straight Battle

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Green Bay Packers and New York Giants are winging their way toward a second successive meeting for the National Football League title, but the Giants may run into the heaviest flak concentration of the season Sunday in Dallas' Cotton Bowl.

While the defending champion Packers are given little to worry about in their visit with the Philadelphia Eagles, New York must gather its off-punctured defenses and battle the league's top offensive team.

A victory by the Giants and one by the Washington Redskins, who play host to Cleveland, would put New York in a highly favorable position to get its fifth Eastern Conference title in the past seven years. Washington is second in the East, a half game behind the Giants, while Dallas and Cleveland are tied for third, 1½ games back.

In other NFL weekend activity, Detroit (6-2) is at San Francisco (3-5), Baltimore (4-4) plays at Los Angeles (1-7), Pittsburgh (4-4) visits St. Louis (2-5-1) and the Minnesota Vikings (2-6) are at Chicago (4-4).

Eddie Lebaron, always a thorn in the side of the Giants, splits the Cowboys' quarterbacking with young Don Meredith. Lebaron is ranked No. 1 in the NFL's passing statistics.

The Packers are itching to avenge their 17-13 loss to the Eagles in the 1960 title game on the same Franklin Field gridiron. The same cast returns for the defending champions, but the poor Eagles (1-6-1) are well below their 1960 form, particularly on defense—and they must cope with a devastating offensive machine led by fullback Jim Taylor.

Palmer, Snead Hold Slim Lead In Canada Golf

By SAM SUMMERLIN
SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—Distressed Arnold Palmer, fresh from some overnight tinkering with a balky, uncertain putter, tried again to tame the slick greens of the San Isidro course today in the third round of the Canada Cup and International Trophy Golf Championship.

Palmer, the PGA's leading money winner this year, had two three-putt greens Friday and four bogeys on the back nine alone as he carded a two-over-par 33-39—72 over the gently rolling, 6,746 yard course.

"Arnold, all you have to do is hole two long ones and you're off and running," veteran Sam Snead advised his partner in the international tourney.

"Yes," Palmer agreed, "but when am I going to get those two long ones?"

Palmer took his putter back to the hotel with him to make some adjustments on the grip.

His 72 gave him a 140 for two days. Snead, plagued with putting troubles the first day, fired a 65 Friday. Their combined score for the two days is 273, enough to retain their three-stroke lead over the pressing Australians. One stroke further back is Argentina.

Sixty-eight professionals two each from 34 nations, are competing in the tourney that ends Sunday. The United States is seeking its third straight victory.

Thermonuclear pertains to the heat energy resulting from or connected with changes in the nuclei of atoms.

Burskey, Pettit Net Touchdowns

New Cumberland was forced to battle the elements of weather and a fired-up Chester team before recording a 14-0 victory, their eighth in 10 starts this season Friday night at Chester.

Both teams battled over a waterlogged gridiron as New Cumberland scored early and late in handing Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers their sixth loss of the season.

Chester Gridder Hurt In Cumberland Game

Dennis Spencer, 17, Chester High football player, suffered an injury to his right knee in Friday night's game against New Cumberland at Chester City Park. He was X-rayed at City Hospital, treated and released.

season. Chester won three and tied one in their other starts. The game was the finale for both schools.

Jim Burskey, second leading scorer in the district, and Allen Pettit, No. 3 point - maker on the local scene, tallied for the Blue Raiders.

New Cumberland marched 46 yards for its initial touchdown which came with 7:32 remaining in the first quarter as Burskey broke loose for 15 yards and the TD. Allen Katzenmeyer then added his first of two placements.

New Cumberland did not score in the second and third periods and Chester held the Raiders scoreless until 17 seconds remaining in the game when Pettit went over from two yards out. The touchdown was set up on a long punt return to the Chester 39-yard line.

The Panthers failed to threaten over the sloppy gridiron. Burskey wound up with 78 points for the season and Pettit close behind with 76.

The 8-2 record marks another highly successful season for Coach John Kuzio and is the third best mark in the district. Last season Kuzio's team finished with another outstanding mark of 7-2-1.

Salem Conquers Dover By 12-0 In Final Game

DOVER — Salem High's Quakers tallied two first half touchdowns and made them stand up for a 12-0 victory over Dover High's Tornadoes here Friday night.

The Quakers ended their season with a 6-4 mark under Coach Blaine Morton — identical to last year's record.

Versatile Bill Beery scored Salem's first touchdown on a 12-yard run, climaxing an 80-yard drive in 15 plays in the opening quarter.

Midway through the second quarter, the Quakers took over on the Dover 39 following a bad pass from center on a fourth-down punting attempt. After 11 plays, Salem fullback George Begalla bucked over from the two.

The Quakers attempted runs for their two conversions and missed them both. Dover's record fell to 4-6. The Tornadoes conclude the season with New Philadelphia next week.

Patriots, Broncos To Match Explosive Offensives Sunday

By The Associated Press
The Boston Patriots and the Denver Broncos, the surprise teams of the league, match their explosive offenses at Denver Sunday in what could be a preview of the American Football League championship game.

It's a match of extremes and one that both division leaders need to preserve their title bids. The Patriots (5-2-1) are a half-game ahead of the two-time champion Houston Oilers in the East, while Denver (7-2) has two games remaining with the Dallas Texans, the nearest challenger in the Western Division.

While the leaders clash in the pressure cooker atmosphere of a "must" game, their closest rivals are heavily favored over less potent foes.

New York Titans Of AFL Will Be Sold Next Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Titans of the American Football League, on the rocks financially and unable to meet the payroll, will be sold in the near future, probably within a week.

Milt Woodard, assistant commissioner of the AFL, said Friday.

day the league has loaned the club enough money to meet the player payroll through Sunday's game with the Dallas Texans.

Asked if the league would continue this policy indefinitely, Woodard replied: "No. We trust the affair will be completely settled by another week."

Harry Wismer, Titan owner, has offered the club for sale. He is asking $2.5 million. Wismer, a former radio sportscaster, is reported to have lost $1.7 million

U.S., Russia Resume Cage Play Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Basketball skill, not the party line, is the motto of the towering, touring Soviet squad which meets a U.S. All-Star team tonight in the second match of an 8-game road show.

That's the word from Russian Coach Stiepan Spandarian, whose team dropped its U.S. opener in New York Thursday night.

The Americans came from behind to snatch a 70-66 victory on four free throws in the last 12 seconds.

Spandarian had nothing to say after the loss, but he made up for it at a Touchdown Club luncheon-news conference Friday.

The Soviet coach was asked whether athletes must be members of the Communist party to compete on the Russian team.

"The most important thing is that you play well," he replied through an interpreter. "After that your party doesn't matter."

Six-foot-7 Viktor Zubov represented the Soviet team, and Nina Poznanskaja the Russian National girl's team at the luncheon honoring U.S. and Soviet competitors.

The Russian women won their opening game over Nashville Business College, women's Amateur Athletic Union champions, Thursday. That game went into double overtime before the visitors won, 59-57.

The women will lead off in tonight's doubleheader at the University of Maryland in nearby College Park.

Crestview Wins, 8-0

SEBRING — Crestview High of Columbiana County wrapped up a 7-3 season record here Friday night by whipping Sebring, 8-0. The Rebels swept their final seven games in succession after losing the first three to Mineral Ridge, United and Lowellville.

Columbiana's Murphy Tallies 4 TD's, Wins Scoring Race

Clippers Rip Palestine, 32-0; Post 8-1 Mark To Lead District

COLUMBIANA — Dale Murphy wound up a brilliant high school football career here Friday night when he scored four touchdowns to lead Columbiana to a 32-0 victory over East Palestine in a driving rainstorm.

Mud and rain didn't bother Murphy, who by scoring 24 points last night, won the 1962 district touchdown title by winding up with 93 points. Lisbon's great back, Dave Rose, was second with 88 points.

Coach George Fisher's team finished the season with an 8-1 record, tops in the district and the best mark at Columbiana since 1953. The Clippers owned an 8-2 record in 1960.

After a scoreless first quarter, Murphy ran across from four yards out to score his first of the evening. In the same period, teammate Rick Perrin went 10 yards for the TD.

Murphy scored another in the third quarter on an 18-yard jaunt, then added touchdown runs of 13 and 12 yards in the final 12 minutes.

The performance ended an outstanding career at Columbiana which saw Murphy play three seasons as a regular for the Clippers. The feat was the second time this year Murphy scored four touchdowns in a single game.

Columbiana finished second in the Tri-County League behind the powerful Louisville squad, but it was a tight battle to the finish since Minerva tied Louisville, 0-0, Friday night.

East Palestine closed out its season with a 4-6 record.

New York Strips Pender Of Title; Legal Fight Set

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Pender today remained middleweight champion only of Massachusetts—and he may even lose his home state soon—but his attorney, breathing fire, threatened legal action.

In one long swoop, Pender was stripped Friday of the title by the New York State Athletic Commission, along with the European, British, Oriental and California commissions. All recognized Dick Tiger of Nigeria, already the champion of the World Boxing Association, the old National Boxing Association of the United States.

Pender first won a share of the title on Jan. 22, 1960 when he beat Sugar Ray Robinson in Boston. He lost it to Terry Downes in London on July 11, 1961, and won it back in Boston on April 7 of this year when he whipped Downes in a return bout.

Champions are supposed to defend their titles within six months. Since more than seven months has gone by, the ring bodies decided to act.

"I will take legal action if necessary," thundered John Cronin, Pender's attorney. "If Paul is deprived of his title, he also will be deprived of making a proper livelihood."

Melvin Krulwich, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, formally defrocked Pender. He said that he had consulted with all the other commissions in question and that the decision was unanimous.

Further, Massachusetts State Boxing Commission Chairman, Herman Greenberg, said it was "ridiculous to call Pender a champion if he is recognized in Massachusetts alone."

Pender had agreed to defend his title against Jose Torres, an unranked Puerto Rican. The New York commission refused to recognize it as a title bout. Finally, it was called off because Torres could not come up with the required $100,000 guarantee.

Cage Fixer Says He Was Told To Skip Jury Call

NEW YORK (AP)—Aaron Wagman, an admitted briber of college basketball players, says he was warned to get out of town for a month or two last year to avoid being called in by a grand jury investigating basketball scandals.

Wagman, a prosecution witness in the bribery trial of Jack Molinas, testified Friday that Molinas gave him that advice during the 1961 National Invitation Tournament in Madison Square Garden.

Molinas, a former Columbia and professional basketball player and now a lawyer, also is accused of conspiracy in attempting to fix 25 games involving 12 colleges and 22 players, and on another count of procuring a person to commit perjury.

Wagman testified he told Molinas he would not run away—"that would be ridiculous."

Wagman, who is awaiting sentencing on a guilty plea of bribery, testified Molinas told him there was going to be an investigation and "they're going to call in all the players after the tournament ends." He referred to the NIT.

In seven years here Capozziello teams compiled a 33-28-3 record. Before coming here he coached at Springfield Catholic, Portsmouth and Bedford.

Toledo Nears Title; Niles, Alliance Tie

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Toledo Central Catholic, with an assist from Alliance, inched nearer a possible state high school football championship Friday night, defeating Toledo Macomber 32-6.

While the Irish, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll of Ohio high school football teams, posted their ninth straight victory, the No. 2 team in the state, Niles McKinley, suffered its first mar on a 37-game unbeaten string since a 1960 tie with Farrell, Pa.

The Red Dragons, defending AP state champions, had to come from behind to tie Alliance 12-12. Third-ranked Lorain Adm. King had troubles too. It lost by a resounding 38-8 to eighth-ranked Sandusky.

This action this week wound up many scholastic football schedules and sports writers and broadcasters vote this weekend for the state champions.

Here's how the AP poll's Top Ten fared:

1. Toledo Central beat Toledo Macomber 32-6.
2. Niles tied Alliance 12-12.
3. Lorain Adm. King lost to Sandusky 38-8.
4. Warren Harding beat Akron South 40-0.
5. Middletown beat Hamilton Garfield 36-0.
6. Toledo DeVilbiss beat Lima Senior 12-6.
7. Cincinnati Roger Bacon plays Cincinnati St. Xavier Sunday.
8. Sandusky beat Lorain King 38-8.
9. Steubenville beat Steubenville Central Catholic 20-6.
10. Cleveland St. Ignatius plays Cleveland West tonight.

Brewer Retains 3-Stroke Lead In Cajun Classic

By BEN THOMAS
LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Gay Brewer Jr., the happy-go-lucky Kentuckian, clung to a 3-stroke lead today in the $17,500 Cajun Classic Golf Tourney despite an erratic second round.

Hot and cold performances have been one of Brewer's trademarks since he joined the play-for-pay ranks six years ago. He lived up to his billing Friday with shaky putting and a one-under-par 71 for a 36-hole total of 135.

Coupled with his record-equaling 64 in Thursday's opening round, however, it kept the 30-year-old Brewer—who plays out of Crystal River, Fla.—three strokes in front of John Barnum of Blytheville, Mich.

"I'm hitting the ball well, but those putts just aren't dropping," commented Brewer after his second round on the 6,759-yard Oakbourne Country Club layout.

Barnum shot a second round 70 for a 36-hole score of 138.

Lionel Hebert moved into contention with a 69 to put him four strokes off the pace at 139.

Two other players, both virtual unknowns, were tied with Hebert. They were Al Johnston of Montreal, and Fred Leffingwell of Miami, Fla.

Detroit Topples Cincy U., 15-14, As Gross Shines

DETROIT (AP)—A great performance by Jerry Gross and a new formation ended the University of Detroit's football torment with a 15-14 victory over Cincinnati Friday night.

Gross, dazzling in a triple-threat performance, scored all the Titans' points. He gained 203 yards passing with a wet ball and 92 yards running on a muddy field.

Detroit's victory ended an eight-game losing streak dating back to last season. Coach John Idzik had designed a new double-flanker offense to exploit Gross' passing and Cincinnati's weak overhead defense. It functioned at near perfection.

Cincinnati led 7-3 at the half and Al Nelson raced 49 yards to put the Bearcats ahead again 14-9. But Gross got the Titans back in front still in the third quarter.

Archer, Leahy Clash In TV Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Archer, a New Yorker who has lost only one fight in 32 and Mike Leahy, a red-haired Irishman from Dublin, will do the honors tonight in a 10-round middleweight match at Madison Square Garden.

Leahy, 27, who arrived Sunday from Ireland where he compiled a 41-11-5 record, hopes to get off on the right foot. Eventually he wants to get a title bout with Dick Tiger, the new 160-pound champ from Nigeria.

Archer, 24, has a 31-1 record. The fight will be carried on network (ABC) television starting at 10 p.m. EST.

Cigarettes Can Lead To Cancer, U.S. Jury Rules

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A jury has ruled that cigarette smoking can give you lung cancer but you can't legally blame the cigarette manufacturer.

A U.S. district court jury came to this conclusion Friday following a trial in which a carpenter tried to collect damages from Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Otto Pritchard, 64, of Pittsburgh said he smoked the company's Chesterfield cigarettes from the 1920s until 1953, got lung cancer and had his right lung removed.

The jury of eight women and four men ruled that cigarette smoking was "the cause or one of the causes" of Pritchard's lung cancer, but said Pritchard assumed the risk of injury when he started smoking.

The panel said Liggett & Myers did not "make any express warranties upon which the plaintiff relied and by which he was induced to purchase" the cigarettes.

Attorneys for both sides indicated they were at least partly satisfied with the verdict.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the City Treasurer, East Liverpool, Ohio, and are supported by limited taxes.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of the payment of maturing notes, issued to pay for the cost of purchasing certain bonds and constructing thereon off-street parking facilities for motor vehicles.

Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by

If each of two or more bids is the highest bid, the lowest interest rate; the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the municipality, or a combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of the bonds bid for, upon condition, that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. Any such check shall not be issued or certified by the bidder. Such security shall be furnished by the municipality unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Off-Street Parking Bonds".

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoy delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them, the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should be act on Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event he bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will meet at Eight o'clock p. m. on the 19th day of November, 1962, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds will be delivered at the office of the undersigned, or such other place as may be agreed on with the successful bidder; if outside of the limits of the municipality, the bidder shall pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the municipality shall give notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, negotiation, and approval of opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approved opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th day of November, the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall not be liable thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and which shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

OFF THE RECORD

"The way he says 'for better or worse', you'd think she had a choice."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make my own skirt-marker for the dresses I make at home?

A. Fill an empty soup can with old candles or paraffin. Melt the wax, and let it cool. When about ready to set, insert a yardstick, putting the low numbers down in the can until it touches bottom. Prop it so that it will be straight and set firmly. Keep a piece of chalk in the top of the can on the wax, where it will be handy.

Q. How can I make a good job of cleaning the crevices in cut-glass?

A. The fine bristles of an ordinary suede shoe brush, used gently, will help you get into those deep crevices.

Q. How can I make a better job of cleaning my linoleum-covered kitchen floor?

A. Try using half liquid wax and half hot water for the cleaning. Your pleasing result will be a clean floor that stays that way much longer than when scrubbed the usual way. The wax cleans as well as polishes.

Q. How can I drive nails more easily into hard wood?

A. Dip your nails into a thick grease, such as the kind used to lubricate a washing machine, etc. Taking a minute or two to do this will eliminate a lot of wasted bent nails and a lot of extra hammering.

Q. What is a quick and effective way to remove ink stains from my fingers?

A. By rubbing your fingers lightly with a cloth that has been dipped in ammonia. Rinse your hands immediately under running water, dry carefully, and the stains are gone.

Q. How can I force picked rosebuds open?

A. By putting a lump of sugar in the water.

Junior Editors Quiz on TELEPHONES

QUESTION: How does a telephone work?

ANSWER: When you speak, your voice causes sound waves. Inside the transmitter into which Mary Ellen is talking there is a thin sheet of metal (A). The sound waves caused by her voice are making this "diaphragm" vibrate. Through the "electrode" just underneath, the diaphragm causes different pressures against a quantity of grains of carbon (shown in grey). A weak electric current passes through the carbon. Vibrations from Mary Ellen's voice press the grains closer together, so more current can run through. In that way, sound vibrations are turned into electric signals that travel over the telephone wire. In the receiver which Marcia is holding to her ear there is a magnet. There is also another diaphragm, (B), which can be made to vibrate by the magnet. The electric signals of Mary Ellen's voice enter the magnet, which pulls on the diaphragm according to the strength of the signal. The vibrations of this diaphragm create sound waves which Marcia's ear picks up and turns into the sounds like those of Mary Ellen's voice.

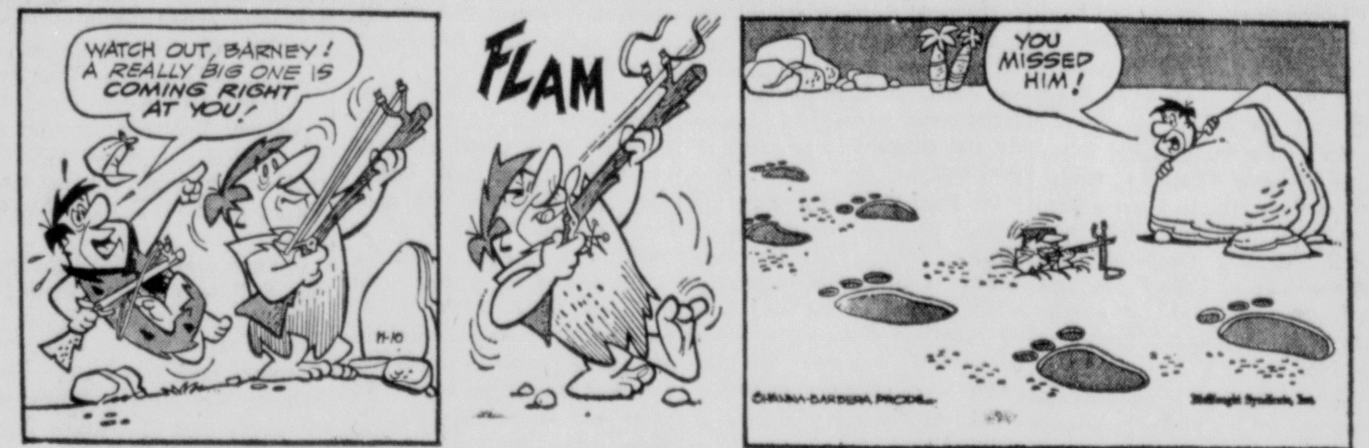

FOR YOU TO DO: Lay a clock on its side at one end of a wooden table and press your ear down on the other end. You'll hear the clock ticking as if inside your ear. These sounds are not electric signals, of course, they are sound waves, carried through the wood.

Darlene Thimsen of Blooming Prairie, Minn., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Trucker, Bus Driver Cited

A trucker and a school bus driver were cited in two of the four minor mishaps investigated Friday night and early today by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Officers said Raymond Lindsay, 47, of East Palestine was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol after he wrecked his tractor-trailer rig on County Rd. 421 almost a mile southeast of Route 46 at 3:15 a. m. today.

Officers said Lindsay was headed northwest on 421 when he drove his rig off the left side of the road and into a ditch. Minor damage resulted.

An empty Beaver Local school bus driven by Charles L. Gorby, 27, of Rogers R. D. 1 and a farm truck driven by William F. Dyke of Rogers R. D. 1 collided at the intersection of County Rds. 428 and 429 seven-tenths of a mile southeast of Route 7 Friday at 2:25 p. m.

Officers said the bus was on 429 and pulled up to the intersection to make a right turn. The truck was headed south on 428 preparing to make a turn into 429. The bus pulled out, crossed over the highway and struck the side of the truck.

Gorby was cited for driving left of center.

A 1957 station wagon driven by Dennis J. Drexler, 18, of Columbiana struck an embankment on County Rd. 440 a half mile east of Columbiana Friday night at 10:30. He went off the right side of the highway, officers said.

Steven Chapko, 19, of Chester R. D. 1 escaped injury when his car hit a bridge abutment on Route 267 three miles north of East Liverpool at 5 a. m. today. Heavy damage resulted to his 1958 coach. He apparently fell asleep, the patrol said.

FALL AND YOUR SEWAGE SYSTEM

Heavy fall rains bring many problems, not the least of which is the far-reaching damage to sewage systems.

Correctly designed septic tanks are constructed according to the daily flow of water and sewage, the gallonage capacity being at least equal to the amount entering in a 24-hour period. This is to allow for the solids to settle out so that digestion can take place in the bottom. An excess to the designed flow can be catastrophic to any system.

What happens then, when flooding occurs? Water-laden ground forces water into pipes, and through cracks in walls and covers of septic tanks . . . water pours through manhole covers, and vents, creating an agitation which prevents settling. This increase in flow, therefore carries large quantities of undigested materials to the drainfields and cesspools areas which are already straining to dispose of tremendous quantities of liquid become clogged with solids, and even less effective. Often such drainage areas overflow and become health hazards to both humans and livestock.

How Sea-Cal Enzymes Help:

Enzymes are not limited to working on solids that are settled — they travel where water will carry them — constantly breaking down proteins, fats, and starches, wherever they may be. Therefore, in overloaded and flooded systems, Sea-Cal continues its work right into the wells, cesspools, and drainfields — freeing the ground of pore-clogging solids and keeping drainage at its peak.

After the floods have subsided, most systems have lost the nucleus of their digestion, which is the bacteria, and often take months to get started. Sea-Cal contains 80,000,000 anaerobic bacteria, in each gram, and, there being 28 grams to the ounce (with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day), this means that a "seeding" with a few ounces of Sea-Cal will regenerate even the most dormant system.

SEA-CAL, the only insurance policy you can buy for your sewage system.

Mental Health Fund Backed By Professional Men, Others

Medical, education, legal and spiritual leaders of the district today urged public support for the fund drive to obtain a Mental Health Clinic for Columbiana County.

A house-to-house drive begins in East Liverpool Monday for contributions to establish a clinic at Lisbon where county adults and young people could get treatment from a fulltime psychiatrist and psychologist.

The need for such a local clinic to prevent emotional and mental problems from ending up in the courts or in institutions was underscored by various community and county leaders in an appeal today.

Dr. Fred Banfield of East Liverpool, president of the County Medical Society, and Dr. Janis Lauva of Wellsville, secretary, urged support of the fund drive on behalf of the society, which unanimously endorsed the campaign at the October meeting.

The two physicians said the society believes the county is "in real need for such a clinic." Dr. Banfield said all physicians have a percentage of patients who could benefit greatly from a local clinic, and he expressed hope that everyone would contribute a share toward obtaining the planned facility.

Atty. Warren Bettis of Salineville, state representative and former assistant county prosecutor, said, "This clinic will be used for out-patient treatment without concern for the imagined stigma attached to mental problems, and will be available for the use of all people, regardless of whether they can pay the small fee or not."

"In the four years in which I served as assistant prosecutor," Bettis said, "I saw hundreds of young people and adults who could have been helped greatly if there had been a clinic, and who could have been returned to their families and loved ones without becoming involved with the courts."

Bettis cited the increase of mental problems in modern, tense times, pointing out half the hospital beds in the nation are occupied by patients with mental ailments.

"I think it is incumbent upon us to demonstrate to our own people that we do care for those in need of treatment and are willing to accept the responsibility," he added.

East Liverpool School Supt. Ralph Betts said, "A county mental clinic as proposed by the association could certainly make a great contribution to the well-being of many citizens of our county over a period of years."

"Because of my position, I immediately think of the help it could afford to the boys and girls and young people in our schools who need trained aid beyond that which can be provided by the school psychologist or our Child Counseling Center."

"This group would be small in number, but to save one younger person from serious mental disorder is worth more than can be expressed in dollars," Betts said.

John Mostoller, president of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association, said, "We in the ministry of the church with a pastoral responsibility for people's lives are intensely aware of the tremendous personal problems and difficult inner-personal relationships which a host of people experience each day."

"There is a constant demand for counsel and help. Often we need to refer persons in deep trouble to those especially able to help."

"A mental health clinic would be of immeasurable value to every spiritual counsellor in the county."

Chester Lions 200 Students Of County Due At College Conference Event

Committees for Christmas activities were named at a meeting of the Chester Lions Club Thursday night at the City Park Community building.

Chairmen are Jerry D'Angelo, tree sale; James Wallace, Nativity scene, and John Abrams, baskets for needy.

A contribution of $10 was authorized for the Hancock County Retarded Children's Council.

Sayre Graham, chairman of the recent light bulb sale, reported $291 was netted. Bulbs will remain on sale at the Chester Lumber Co., Huff's service station and D'Angelo's shoe repair shop.

Anthony Bernardi, director of the minstrel show slated Nov. 17, said a rehearsal will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 at the VFW home.

Graham said a work night session will be held next Thursday at the community building to continue work on the clubroom.

Edward Loos was a guest. Sixteen attended. Charles Mansfield, president, was in charge. The club will meet Dec. 13.

Pughtown Board Fills 2 Positions

Oliver Glass was elected chairman, and Mrs. Lester Hill, secretary, when the Board of Directors of the Pughtown Public Service District met Wednesday night.

They will serve until the group holds an election in January.

A representative of the A. R. Todd engineering firm of Wheeling will be asked to attend the next meeting of discuss arrangements for installation of central water and sewage systems in the village.

The board decided to meet the fourth Wednesday each month at 7:30 p.m. with the place to be announced periodically.

Records of the board's activities will be made available to the public at the County Courthouse in New Cumberland.

GOOD SENSE FOR EVERY READING FAMILY

THE PURPOSE of this suggested trial membership is to demonstrate two things by your own experience: first, that you can really keep yourself from missing, through oversight or over-busyness, books you fully intend to read; second, the advantages of the Club's unique Book-Dividend system, through which members can regularly receive valuable library volumes—at a small fraction of their price—simply by buying books they would buy anyway. The offer described here represents "advance" Book-Dividends earned by the purchase of the three books you engage to buy later.

* The three books you choose from those pictured on this page will be sent immediately and you will be billed one dollar for each volume (plus a small charge for postage and handling).

* If you continue after this trial membership you will receive, with every Club choice you buy, a Book-Dividend Certificate. Each certificate, together with a nominal sum—usually $1.00—can be redeemed for a valuable Book-Dividend which you may choose from a catalog of more than a hundred fine library volumes whose publishers' retail prices now average $7.00. Since the inauguration of the Book-Dividend system, $270,000,000 worth of books (retail value) has been earned and received by Book-of-the-Month Club members through this profit-sharing plan.

Trucker, Bus Driver Cited

A trucker and a school bus driver were cited in two of the four minor mishaps investigated Friday night and early today by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Officers said Raymond Lindsay, 47, of East Palestine was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol after he wrecked his tractor-trailer rig on County Rd. 421 almost a mile southeast of Route 46 at 3:15 a. m. today.

Officers said Lindsay was headed northwest on 421 when he drove his rig off the left side of the road and into a ditch. Minor damage resulted.

An empty Beaver Local school bus driven by Charles L. Gorby, 27, of Rogers R. D. 1 and a farm truck driven by William F. Dyke of Rogers R. D. 1 collided at the intersection of County Rds. 428 and 429 seven-tenths of a mile southeast of Route 7 Friday at 2:25 p. m.

Officers said the bus was on 429 and pulled up to the intersection to make a right turn. The truck was headed south on 428 preparing to make a turn into 429. The bus pulled out, crossed over the highway and struck the side of the truck.

Gorby was cited for driving left of center.

A 1957 station wagon driven by Dennis J. Drexler, 18, of Columbiana struck an embankment on County Rd. 440 a half mile east of Columbiana Friday night at 10:30. He went off the right side of the highway, officers said.

Steven Chapko, 19, of Chester R. D. 1 escaped injury when his car hit a bridge abutment on Route 267 three miles north of East Liverpool at 5 a. m. today. Heavy damage resulted to his 1958 coach. He apparently fell asleep, the patrol said.

FALL AND YOUR SEWAGE SYSTEM

Heavy fall rains bring many problems, not the least of which is the far-reaching damage to sewage systems.

Correctly designed septic tanks are constructed according to the daily flow of water and sewage, the gallonage capacity being at least equal to the amount entering in a 24-hour period. This is to allow for the solids to settle out so that digestion can take place in the bottom. An excess to the designed flow can be catastrophic to any system.

What happens then, when flooding occurs? Water-laden ground forces water into pipes, and through cracks in walls and covers of septic tanks... water pours through manhole covers, and vents, creating an agitation which prevents settling. This increase in flow, therefore carries large quantities of undigested materials to the drainfields and cesspools areas which are already straining to dispose of tremendous quantities of liquid become clogged with solids, and even less effective. Often such drainage areas overflow and become health hazards to both humans and livestock.

How Sea-Cal Enzymes Help:

Enzymes are not limited to working on solids that are settled — they travel where water will carry them — constantly breaking down proteins, fats, and starches, wherever they may be. Therefore, in overloaded and flooded systems, Sea-Cal continues its work right into the wells, cesspools, and drainfields — freeing the ground of pore-clogging solids and keeping drainage at its peak.

After the floods have subsided, most systems have lost the nucleus of their digestion, which is the bacteria, and often take months to get started. Sea-Cal contains 80,000,000 anaerobic bacteria, and 60,000,000 aerobic bacteria, in each gram, and, there being 28 grams to the ounce (with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day), this means that a "seeding" with a few ounces of Sea-Cal will regenerate even the most dormant system.

Mental Health Fund Backed By Professional Men, Others

Medical, education, legal and spiritual leaders of the district today urged public support for the fund drive to obtain a Mental Health Clinic for Columbiana County.

A house-to-house drive begins in East Liverpool Monday for contributions to establish a clinic at Lisbon where county adults and young people could get treatment from a fulltime psychiatrist and psychologist.

The need for such a local clinic to prevent emotional and mental problems from ending up in the courts or in institutions was underscored by various community and county leaders in an appeal today.

Dr. Fred Banfield of East Liverpool, president of the County Medical Society, and Dr. Janis Lauva of Wellsville, secretary, urged support of the fund drive on behalf of the society, which unanimously endorsed the campaign at the October meeting.

The two physicians said the society believes the county is "in real need for such a clinic." Dr. Banfield said all physicians have a percentage of patients who could benefit greatly from a local clinic, and he expressed hope that everyone would contribute a share toward obtaining the planned facility.

Atty. Warren Bettis of Salineville, state representative and former assistant county prosecutor, said, "This clinic will be used for out-patient treatment without concern for the imagined stigma attached to mental problems, and will be available for the use of all people, regardless of whether they can pay the small fee or not."

"In the four years in which I served as assistant prosecutor," Bettis said, "I saw hundreds of young people and adults who could have been helped greatly if there had been a clinic, and who could have been returned to their families and loved ones without becoming involved with the courts."

Bettis cited the increase of mental problems in modern, tense times, pointing out half the hospital beds in the nation are occupied by patients with mental ailments.

"I think it is incumbent upon us to demonstrate to our own people that we do care for those in need of treatment and are willing to accept the responsibility," he added.

East Liverpool School Supt. Ralph Bettis said, "A county mental clinic as proposed by the association could certainly make a great contribution to the well-being of many citizens of our county over a period of years."

"Because of my position, I immediately think of the help it could afford to the boys and girls and young people in our schools who need trained aid beyond that which can be provided by the school psychologist or our Child Counseling Center."

"This group would be small in number, but to save one younger person from serious mental disorder is worth more than can be expressed in dollars," Bettis said.

John Mostoller, president of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association, said, "We in the ministry of the church with a pastoral responsibility for people's lives are intensely aware of the tremendous personal problems and difficult inner-personal relationships which a host of people experience each day."

"There is a constant demand for counsel and help. Often we need to refer persons in deep trouble to those especially able to help."

"A mental health clinic would be of immeasurable value to every spiritual counsellor in the county."

Hopes High For Makler's Testimony In Liquor Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy indicated today he has high hopes that the special grand jury investigating alleged influence peddling in the state liquor department will soon hear the testimony of Joseph Makler, Chicago distiller.

The attorney general announced that he will request the Franklin County Common Pleas Court to issue another certificate to subpoena Makler for appearance Nov. 26.

McElroy spent the last four days in Chicago with his special counsel, Adrian B. Fink Jr. He did not say he had contacted Makler, but added:

"Certain leads have developed in Chicago this week which persuade us that the issuance of the certificate may have successful results in getting Mr. Makler's testimony before the grand jury."

Makler has been the object of a widespread search since he made allegations Sept. 28 that he had to pay to have his company's brands listed in Ohio liquor stores. It was his charges that touched off the grand jury investigation.

Only Friday, Common Pleas Judge Robert M. Draper signed a certificate promising immunity to Makler in connection with his summons before the grand jury. The certificate along with $495 to cover witness fees and mileage was forwarded to Portland, Ore., where the distiller was expected to attend a convention of liquor manufacturers.

GOOD SENSE FOR EVERY READING FAMILY

THE PURPOSE of this suggested trial membership is to demonstrate two things by your own experience: first, that you can really keep yourself from missing, through oversight or over-busyness, books you fully intend to read; second, the advantages of the Club's unique Book-Dividend system, through which members can regularly receive valuable library volumes—at a small fraction of their price—simply by buying books they would buy anyway. The offer described here represents "advance" Book-Dividends earned by the purchase of the three books you engage to buy later.

* The three books you choose from those pictured on this page will be sent immediately and you will be billed one dollar for each volume (plus a small charge for postage and handling).

* If you continue after this trial membership you will receive, with every Club choice you buy, a Book-Dividend Certificate. Each certificate, together with a nominal sum—usually $1.00—can be redeemed for a valuable Book-Dividend which you may choose from a catalog of more than a hundred fine library volumes whose publishers' retail prices now average $7.00. Since the inauguration of the Book-Dividend system, $270,000,000 worth of books (retail value) has been earned and received by Book-of-the-Month Club members through this profit-sharing plan.

If It Weren't for My Wife...

Life had dead-ended in the copper mines for this uneducated youth—until a vivacious schoolteacher sparked his will to succeed

Editors' Note: Sen. Michael Mansfield of Montana holds one of the most powerful political posts in the country—Majority Leader of the U. S. Senate. He began his career in Congress in 1942 as a member of the House of Representatives and entered the Senate in 1952.

GUS ERICKSON was one of the strongest men I've known. For most of 1926 we stayed in the same rooming house in Butte, Mont. We ate together, loafed together, talked together. And together we sweated in the dust-filled air of the copper mines.

Gus died of silicosis that year. The dust had gotten into his lungs. I watched his weight and muscle disappear. I saw him doubled over in bed, coughing and choking until his face was deathly white. At his funeral, I kept thinking: this could be me . . . this could be me.

I was 19 when I went down on my first shift as a mucker (ore shoveler) at $4.25 a day. That was big money in 1922, but men paid a hard price for it. I spent the next nine years watching many like Gus cough their lungs out.

This was a world I might still be in—struggling to stay alive—if it hadn't been for a vivacious, copper-haired girl who taught high-school English in Butte and showed me the way out of the mines. Maureen Hayes had been raised in the mining camp and started teaching in Butte in 1928. Her sister introduced us. Suddenly, I had a new friend—perhaps the only genuinely close friend in my life.

I had always been a loner who kept his thoughts to himself, but Maureen brought out the talk in me. I told her about my early love of history and adventure books and how, at 14, I'd run away from my home in Great Falls, Mont., to join the Navy. We talked about school. The fact that she had a college education while I'd never gotten beyond the eighth grade troubled me.

"Mike, if it bothers you, do something about it," she finally said. "I'll help you study for a high-school diploma." Within days she had me enrolled in a correspondence course. From then on

By SEN. MIKE MANSFIELD

Majority Leader of the U. S. Senate

Mrs. Mansfield aids her husband at his office.

I spent most of my free hours studying.

But in 1929 and 1930 the depression hit Butte, and the mines began to lay off workers. I was scared; mining was the only work I knew. So when two friends working in South America told me their company was offering the security of three-year contracts to experienced miners, I quickly shared the news with Maureen.

She was thoughtful for more than a minute. Then she said in a soft, serious voice; "Mike, are you sure you really want a career in mining? Since you've always loved history and reading, why don't you take the money you've been saving and go down to the state university at Missoula and study for a degree?"

"But what about us?" I interrupted. "We couldn't afford to get married for years." Maureen smiled. "The most important thing is for you to find yourself; we'll talk about marriage later."

The idea was absurd, and yet I knew I disliked my life as a miner. Maureen argued on. Finally, in the spring of 1931 when people were crying for jobs, I quit the mines and went to college.

Maureen continued to teach in Butte; our only contact was through letters. But by 1932, the separation was becoming too painful. So one day that autumn Maureen gave up her job and drove down to Missoula, where we were married. She had waited three long years for me.

There were other couples living on the campus, but I doubt if any were poorer than we. I recall one time when I saw hamburger selling at three pounds for 25 cents. This seemed like a bargain, so I bought 25 cents worth. But when Maureen saw the meat she began to cry.

"What's the matter?" I asked. "We haven't any place to put this meat," she said. "We haven't got an icebox." The meat was distributed to friends, and from that moment on I let Maureen do all the buying.

BUT NO MATTER how much we scrimped, we could not make ends meet. Again, it was Maureen who found an answer. One evening she picked up the latest rent bill and said: "Mike, I think it's time I cashed in my insurance policy."

I started to protest, but she shook her head angrily. "Be sensible, Mike—keeping you in school is our insurance for the future." Her logic was unanswerable. I could only promise myself that someday I would repay this wonderful girl.

Several weeks before my graduation, the chairman of the history department asked me to drop in to his office. His first question was: "Are you taking your master's, Mike?" I told him how worried I was about my finances. He nodded: "That's why I called you in. I can give you two history classes at the University next year. They won't pay much, but they will at least take care of your rent and a few other problems. You'll be able to go on for your master's."

I've never been a man given to expressive emotions. But even today, after years of dealing with momentous affairs in Washington, I can still vividly recall the joy and excitement I felt at that moment. Here was the goal for which Maureen and I had been striving. At last, I was truly a part of the world of books and ideas.

Maureen was working in the kitchen when I arrived home. "Tonight, Mrs. Mansfield," I said with a mock severe voice as I untied her apron, "we are going out for a steak dinner." It was my first payment on a long overdue bill.

Are Parents People?

before he knows it, he'll be leading her down the aisle to present her to the love and care of another man. He has a stake in her happiness, including her right choice of that other man.

Maybe he thinks he has little to say about it, but that isn't so. Men can size up the character of other men faster and better than women can. That's why fathers should meet their daughter's dates and give them the double-o.

I don't mean that the boys have to be screened for their IQs and credit ratings. But a father should take an interest in that fresh-faced kid nervously fingering a corsage box on the living room couch. Someday he might be part of the family. If he thinks the kid is no good, he should tell his daughter so. And she should respect his judgment: he has better insight into male character than she.

It's tragic that this male authority is missing in many homes. Fathers have been lost by death or divorce, and mothers are faced with raising their children alone. It is a tough situation—I know how tough it can be.

AFTER I WAS divorced from Eddie Fisher, I was fortunately able to afford care for my two children while I was working. I had a wonderful nurse who watched after them in the daytime, leaving matters of discipline to me. When I wasn't working, I spent my entire time with the children. We played on swings, we took walks, we went often to the beach or had picnics in the park.

I was also fortunate that my brother could come and live with me. His masculine influence was a great help, especially with my son Todd.

Many mothers are forced to continue the heartbreaking role of mother-father until their children are grown. Some of them work too hard at trying to fill both roles and become overly strict.

One divorced mother I know won't allow her teen-age daughter to go on dates alone; the girl is delivered and picked up by her mother wherever she goes. The mother is playing the role of the stern father, but she is neglecting to provide a mother's tenderness that the daughter also needs.

Many a divorced mother unwittingly drives her children's affections toward their father. She feels she must maintain discipline—and she must. But by being overly stern (perhaps out of bitterness over the failure of her marriage), she alienates her children.

What can the mother do? She can only strive to achieve a balance between discipline and love and to seek her children's love. With God's help, it can be done.

■ PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S call for "greater ability to deal with guerrilla forces, insurrection, and subversion" is being answered by the Army Special Forces, a ready-for-anything group of fighting men whose distinctive emblem is their jaunty green berets. Other outfits—particularly the Marines—also deal with this problem as one of their responsibilities. But for the ASF, it is the job: a special job for very special soldiers.

I'd like you to meet one of these men, Master Sergeant Paul M. Darcy. He's 32 years old—10 years in the Army, nine of them in the ASF. He stands six feet, three inches, weighs 175 pounds, and has the lean, rugged look that is characteristic of ASF men. He's married, has three children, and comes from my old home town, Brooklyn.

Sergeant Darcy joined the ASF in Korea and has served with it in Germany and Southeast Asia. In between, he has been helping train ASF teams at the Army Special Warfare Center at Fort Bragg, N.C. That's where I met him recently and asked him this question: "Sergeant, what's so special about the Army Special Forces?" The result was this story.

—George Fielding Eliot

I TRAIN AMERICA'S

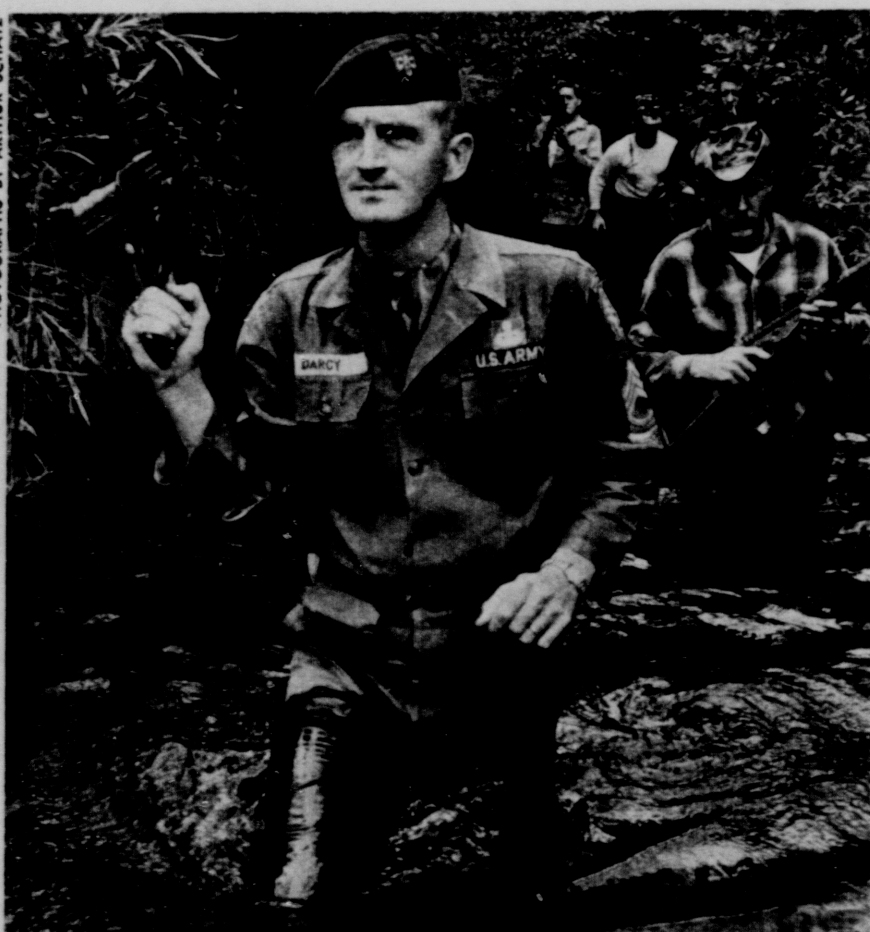

WHAT'S SPECIAL about the men I train for the Army Special Forces? First and foremost, they are individuals.

Every man who has earned the privilege of wearing our green beret is a personality in his own right—a man who has been through a hard-grinding mill and proved that he belongs in an outfit composed of the most self-confident soldiers in the world.

We who train these men ask ourselves every minute of every gruelling day: would I be willing to trust my life to this man's courage and good judgment? If one of us says no—just once—good-bye green beret. Where the ASF goes, there's no margin for error.

Where do the "green berets" go? Anywhere that a free

People?

There are no hard and fast rules about when teen-agers should be allowed to do certain things. Times change. Parents can't expect customs to be the same as when they were teen-agers. The scene is different today.

My parents solved the problem by observing what other parents did. Because Mother and Dad took part in our activities, they could see which children had too much freedom and which had too little. They struck a happy medium with maybe a balance on the conservative side usually, just to be safe.

Raising children is a two-person job, and my parents realized it. They maintained that delicate balance between paternal and maternal authority that every family needs.

It's only natural for a girl to spend more time with her mother. They can chatter about feminine fashions and fads and other things that would bore a man stiff. And a girl feels more inclined to confide in her mother about the worries and wonderments of growing up. A girl needs this relationship.

A friend of mine was having troubles with her teen-age daughter and couldn't understand why. Their home life was reasonably serene. The girl had everything she needed, but she wasn't spoiled with presents. Both parents took a loving interest in her activities, yet she was obviously unsettled.

The mother questioned the girl and found the problem was that she never spent time alone with her daughter. The girl was becoming jealous of her father, thinking that he monopolized her mother's time. She felt that her mother loved him more. So the mother started taking her daughter out alone on shopping trips and to luncheons, and the family balance was soon restored.

A father must make his influence felt, too—and not merely with the iron hand of discipline. He may think at times that his daughter is a giddy, giggly little girl. But

PATENT MEDICINE PRACTICES
Now You Too Can Learn How to SAVE

VITAMINS

A recent public service study of Patent Medicines in one of New York's leading evening newspapers, devoted one entire installment to VITAMINS and disclosed many interesting highlights about the sale of Vitamins and Vitamin-Mineral combinations.

One of the startling revelations in this frank article was the wide variance of Vitamin prices.

The following three paragraphs taken from the series, as it appeared, are of particular concern to every family buying Vitamins.

"Any particular vitamin bottled under one label is, for all practical and therapeutic purposes, the same as if it is bottled under another label. The fact is, most of the Vitamin concentrates consumed in America are produced by only a few companies.

"The list of ingredients in a Vitamin compound is one thing the consumer can almost always depend on to be correct. Any company which fails to label the bottle with the exact formula and amount (or unit strength) of each ingredient risks a seizure by the U. S. Government.

"Bearing that in mind, it is interesting to pick up a few Vitamin catalogs and compare the prices charged by different companies for the same Vitamin compounds."

Following publication of the installment we received hundreds of telephone calls requesting copies of the Hudson Vitamin Catalog. This interest prompted us to tell the entire nation our story.

Hudson Vitamin Products has been serving doctors and nurses for over 25 years and now you too, can purchase your Vitamins DIRECT from Hudson at savings up to 50% and more.* Page after page in the Free Hudson Catalog shows tremendous dollar savings on Vitamins, Vitamin-Mineral combinations and Food Supplements.

Here is one example from the Hudson Vitamin Catalog: A therapeutic multiple vitamin formula comparable to another well known brand selling for as much as $7.45 per 100 . . . only $3.25 per 100 DIRECT from the Hudson Vitamin Catalog.

Here is another—A very popular multiple vitamin formula comparable to another national brand, taken once-a-day, selling as high as $3.11 per 100 . . . the Hudson formula sells for only $1.50 per 100.

These are only two examples that you will find in our 48 page catalog that is simple, easy to read and has been a Vitamin buying guide for millions from coast-to-coast.

GUERRILLAS

By M/Sgt. PAUL M. DARCY

Introduction by GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT

people are in danger from Communist subversion, infiltration, guerrilla attacks. Our mission is to teach such people how to defend themselves. We're doing that today in South Vietnam; we may be doing the same thing tomorrow in Latin America, Africa, the Middle East, or even Eastern Europe.

Our first task when we arrive in a threatened country is to win the confidence of the people we've come to help: people who probably aren't of our race and certainly have different values and ways of looking at things. We have to prove to them that, if they'll let us help them, they can defend themselves and their homes.

The day the village people take gun in hand and start shooting at guerrillas instead of running away is the day the guerrilla is out of business in that neighborhood. Guerrillas can't operate unless the local people help them, hide them, feed them, give them information.

Another thing that's very special about the Army Special Forces is our team organization. Our basic team consists of two officers and 10 enlisted men. These teams are area-oriented: that is, each is trained to operate in a particular part of the world and is capable of training and directing a battalion of local troops of up to 1,200 men.

Of the 10 men, two are specially trained in operations and intelligence (they must be leaders, have combat experience, and know the country, language, local customs, and terrain); two are communicators (able to handle any kind of

Are Parents

A popular star, who has had her ups and downs and made her share of mistakes, gives some sprightly advice based on her personal experience

By DEBBIE REYNOLDS

"AW, COME ON, we can take it Nobody will ever know."

This was my girl friend Dolly speaking. We were both nine years old, the scene was in Burbank, Calif., and we were on our way home from school. I was a small bundle of gullibility, and I foolishly accepted Dolly's plan for crime.

"Let's stop and get some gum," Dolly had suggested.

"With what? I don't have any money," I said.

"I've got it figured so we don't need any money," she whispered.

"You and I will walk in the grocery store, and I'll talk to the owner. While I'm talking to him, you stick a couple of packages of gum in your pocket. Okay?"

The Brinks robbery couldn't have been smoother. We pulled off the caper with the ease of veterans and sauntered home, happily chomping our gum.

My mother's first question was: "Where did you get that gum?"

"Uh—Dolly gave it to me," I stammered in reply.

"And how did Dolly get the gum?"

"Her mother gave her the money."

"No, she didn't. Her mother doesn't have any spare money with 14 kids in the house, any more than we do. Now where did you get the gum?"

The scene lacked only the glaring lights and a rubber hose; Mother's questioning was more grueling than the third degree. Finally I cracked; I made a full confession of the crime.

"Then you're going right down to the store and give the gum back," Mother told me.

I cried. I sobbed. I rolled on the floor. If I could do such a scene today, I'd win the Oscar for sure. But my performance failed to convince Mother. She marched me right back to the corner store.

As punishment, Mother and the grocer decided I was to sweep out his store every afternoon for a week. I have never forgotten the lesson in honesty they taught me—and I am still grateful for it.

MOTHER REALIZED you were either honest or dishonest; there was nothing in between. Some parents might have avoided the tearful scene in front of the store owner for fear it would give their children a trauma.

I don't believe that is the right attitude. Children must learn the rights and wrongs of living. The younger they start to take their own punishment, the better—and happier—citizens they'll be.

It's much easier on parents to cover up for their children when the youngsters do wrong. Easier at the time, yes; but they are raising children who will have no responsibility toward other people's property and no respect for the law. They think that Mommy and Daddy will always protect them. Then one day the kids get in too deep, and Mommy and Daddy can't protect them any more.

First comes love, then comes discipline. Too much love, and a child is crushed by it; too much discipline, and his spirit is broken. But with a delicate balance of both, you can mold a spirit that will withstand any of life's pressures. I'm glad my mother and father realized these things, because I have often needed the stability I learned from them.

Each new generation is smarter and can afford better things. But I don't think families are improving as families. The distance between parents and children is growing all the time.

It takes time to be a parent. My mother and father gave us their time. I wanted to be a Girl Scout, so Mother became a Girl Scout leader. My brother Bill wanted to be a Boy Scout, so Dad became a leader. When Bill became ambitious to be a baseball player, Dad managed a team.

Our parents gave us their attention, but they didn't indulge us. They led their own lives, too. There was none of the big brother or big sister stuff. We were always aware of the fact that they were parents. We toed the line accordingly.

CURFEW WAS MIDNIGHT. I never challenged it; Bill was late just once. He called at 1 o'clock to explain that the car had broken down and he hadn't been able to get to a telephone.

I never felt the need for more liberty. But I realize this is the major point of conflict between parents and teen-agers in most homes. Mothers and fathers are frequently peppered with questions like:

"Why can't I stay out as late as the other kids?"

"Why can't I have a date Thursday night?"

This is part of the never-ending struggle between youngsters who want to try their wings and their parents who want them first to learn how to fly.

communications equipment); two are weapons specialists (they have to know all about our own weapons and also all types of foreign weapons that may be encountered); two are demolition and construction men (who, for example, can blow up a bridge or build one); and two are medics (who can amputate a shattered leg, dress wounds, take out an appendix if no doctor is handy, or deliver a baby if that has to be done).

Each man is cross-trained in at least two other specialties besides his own. We turn the old adage around: our men are Jacks-of-all-trades and real masters of one besides!

When a team is first formed, its members are with one another 24 hours a day. They get to know one another extremely well. They develop faith in one another. If even one man loses confidence in a teammate, a change is made. That results in a very special kind of outfit.

Men come to the Army Special Forces for a good many reasons. But if they stay, they stay for just one reason—they have faith in their units, in their teammates, and in their mission.

At the start, they are all double volunteers. First they've volunteered to take paratrooper training; that's a must for ASF. Then after they're qualified paratroopers, they volunteer for ASF and go through our training course. Some of them fall by the wayside, but of those that come through—well, it's a matter of pride with all of us that we never lose a real ASF soldier.

The Army Service Forces takes care of its own. Tomorrow morning I might be ordered to, let's say, the 1st Special Forces Group on Okinawa on 24 hours' notice. I'd tell my wife, she'd start packing and getting the children ready, and when we got to Okinawa we'd find a set of quarters all clean and waiting, with food in the icebox and ASF folks asking what else they could do for us. An ASF man needs a special kind of family, that's for sure—but in a way the ASF is a sort of family itself.

What kind of training do we give them? It's rugged; it has to be. The specialty training comes first, then branch training, which includes such tactics as parachuting into a pine forest at night or landing (also at night) on a rocky, surf-swept coast from a small boat or spending a few days in a snake-infested swamp.

Scuba diving; survival in mountains, deserts, jungles; evasion and escape; silent killing; judo; keeping in top physical condition—ASF men train in all these ways and many more. If we didn't we couldn't live up to our motto:

Any Thing, Any Time, Any Place, Any How.

With some strong support from the ground, a guerrilla slides down wall after scaling it mountain-style.

Portrait (left) reveals how coming manhood has altered once-chubby face of Prince Charles. At right, he imitates his father's famous hands-behind-the-back stance.

Prince Charles Grows Up

As the future king of England turns 14 on Wednesday, he has just emerged from an awkward, imperious boyhood and is now attending one of the world's toughest schools

By VERE CONNAUGHT

"THAT'S HIM," whispered the small boy nudging his neighbor as the Gordonstoun School song rose in the Scottish air. "It's Prince Charles—don't let him see you're looking at him!"

Since the heir to England's throne and his six detectives arrived at this Spartan academy in the Highlands last spring, an almost miraculous silence has fallen. Not only the boys but the entire population of Britain seems bound together in a loyal conspiracy of silence.

Even London's notoriously brash newspapers have kept their reportorial eyes averted, their camera lenses covered.

So much for the mask of silence. What of the behind-the-scenes drama at Buckingham Palace which accompanied the packing off of this small lad to what may be the most rugged school in the world? How is he facing the challenges of growing up as he nears his 14th birthday Wednesday?

Queen Elizabeth herself finally decided on Gordonstoun as the school for Charles. Rumor persists that his attempts to pass an entrance examination for Eton had failed and the choice was limited. More probably, the balance was tipped by his father's repeated entreaties to let the lad go to his own old school and, as he gruffly put it, "make a man of himself."

Whatever the cause, Elizabeth announced that when Charles left his preparatory school, Cheam, at the age of 13 he would travel 600 miles north to the barren, beautiful, but distinctly glacial school perched on the icy North Sea coast.

Gordonstoun will certainly toughen Britain's future monarch, as well as widen his eyes to frontiers outside his own island. A gaunt complex of gray stone buildings, it was founded by an educational zealot, Dr. Kurt Hahn, in the 1930s.

From a source very close to the royal family, I learned that Charles had not shown up too well at Cheam. He was a somewhat difficult boy, inclined to be imperious and easily distressed when thwarted in getting his own way.

I hear, too, that he suffered from a distressing lack of coordination when playing field games and that he had aroused little admiration from his schoolmates in team sports. Charles' idea was to get the ball and hang on to it.

For the son of a yachtsman, polo player, and rugged outdoorsman, this is a pretty acute disadvantage. Upper-class British boys expect the sons of famous dads to show up well. Elizabeth knows this and worries. Perhaps this was another reason for sending him to Gordonstoun.

The other 400 lads at school had been well primed. They made every effort not to look agape at the future king who had landed among them. As one youngster told his mother during the vacation this summer: "It was pretty weird at first, but we soon got used to it. He's no different, really, from any other new boy."

LIKE MOST SCHOOLS, Gordonstoun has traditional ways of initiating a "newbug"—campus name for a newcomer. With Charles, they began with his being ignored for a day or two.

But every morning thereafter he rolled out of his black iron bed at 7, pulled on shorts and gym shoes and, naked above the waist, joined a file of boys from his house. They trotted a full three minutes in the crisp morning air, a distance of 400 yards. An icy shower followed.

"It is more of a breathing exercise than anything else," the school's warden, Henry Brereton, once told me. "The boys may not run fast, but they clean out their lungs."

Gordonstoun is noted for the physical toughness of its regimen and for the rigid self-discipline expected of its students. Almost obscured is a sound curriculum: Charles is studying English, divinity, Latin, history, music, French, geography, mathematics, and seamanship.

In his second week, the boys around the Prince thawed toward him. He was asked: "What's it like to be a prince?" His answers were evasive, and the questions were soon dropped.

AT HALF-TERM, other boys had plans to meet their families. Prince Charles seemed to be at loose ends. Then a slightly older lad asked: "Anyone like to come fishing with me?"

"I would," said Charles earnestly. "I'm jolly good at fishing."

He was, too. The two boys spent an absorbing afternoon together. Nobody can remember what they caught, but the outing was a big success. Charles had made a friend.

By term's end, he was "in" at Gordonstoun and was allowed to wear the regulation day uniform of navy blue. Few boys fail this first hurdle (about four in 60, I was told), but Charles made it in July, before the school closed for vacation.

So this term, which began Sept. 24, he is no longer a "newbug." He has won his spurs in one of the hardest schools in the world.

If the school's principles work as well with Charles as they did with his father, Queen Elizabeth's worries should soon be over. Critics say the boys who leave Gordonstoun lack sophistication—that they are better at rope-handling than hand-holding with pretty girls—but this won't upset the Queen and her discipline-oriented husband.
